Insurance Plan For Unemployed Is Debate Topic

Premier Aberhart Tells Prime Minister King Care Necessary to Learn Will of Provinces in Constitution Changes

Contending that the British North America Act is the fundamental basis upon which people of each province are agreed to act in sovereignty and that care should be exercised to learn exactly their will regarding changes, Premier William Aberhart has advised Premier Mackenzie King that proposed amendment to the act will be submitted to the legislature for decision, as soon as possible after the house meets on Thursday.

Text of Premier Aberhart's reply to Premier King was made available on Wednesday.

Premier King had written regarding an amendment to the B.N.A. Act which would enable the Dominion to take over the full burden of unemployment insurance. The proposed amendment would consist of two words only, by adding to the list of things over which the Dominion has jurisdiction, the words "unemployment insurance."

In his reply, Premier Aberhart declares that crop insurance is what is required in this province.

SEEKS DETAILS

He also seeks detailed information on a variety of points, information that has not been made available to date.

Full text of Premier Aberhart's reply is as follows:—

Your letter of January 29th has received the most careful consideration of the cabinet here and the conclusions we have reached are as follows:

(a) The British North America Act is the fundamental basis upon which the people of each province are agreed to act in sovereignty and in association, so every care must be exercised to learn as exactly as

M'LAUGHLIN IS UPSET BY BLANEY, 8-7

Veteran Wetaskiwin Skip Succumbs To Rink From Stettler

George McLaughlin, the veteran Wetaskiwin skip who provided the major upset of Tuesday's play in the bonspiel, was himself the victim of Wednesday morning's biggest upset. He went down to his first defeat before Birney of Stettler 8-7 in the 9:00 a.m. draw of the King Edward event.

McLaughlin's rink was not below par, but Blaney was hiding his rocks behind an unbeatable wall of guards that the Wetaskiwin boys just couldn't get around.

SIX MEET WATERLOOS

Six rinks previously undefeated in any event met their Waterloo Wednesday morning. Chrystal of Carstairs was beaten 11-9 by Longmuir of Alberta Avenue; Latta of the Thistle went down 10-4 before Rattan of Hardisty, Roper of Rimbey fell 10-2 before D. S. Edwards of the Edmonton Club, Scott of the Royal was beaten 10-4 by Dalgleish of Grande Prairie, while Veilleux of the Granite bowed 10-4 to Matthews of the Royal.

These six to meet their first defeats, all met them in the King Edward event which leaves them still strong competitors in the Grand Challenge.

TWO 13-ENDERS

Two 13-end games marked the morning draw. Green of Lamont knocked out Frank Wolfe of the Royal in the King Edward event 11-9 in one of these extra-enders. The other extra-end game saw Carmichael of Strome edged out 14-13 by Whitlock of Innisfree.

Visiting rinks now predominate among the rapidly narrowing circle of those unbeaten in any event. Fifteen squads have not had their colors lowered yet and eight of these are visitors. The unbeaten are: Cowley of Wainwright, Beder of Calgary, Delameter of Thorsby, Goddard of Delburne, Gregory of Thistle, Hope of the Royal, Hunter of Sylvan Lake, Laight of the Edmonton club, Morison of Ponoka, Mowbray of the Thistle, Munroe of the Royal, Nesbit of the Thistle, Rose of Sedgewick, Trimble of Calgary and Longmuir of Alberta Avenue.

ELECTRIC STORM CUTS OFF TALK TO TRAPPED MEN

MOSCOW, Feb. 9 — A magnetic storm today interrupted communication between the outside world and the four Soviet "North Pole" campers whose perilous perch on a dwindling ice cake is in danger of being crushed by pack ice off the east coast of Greenland.

Three Russian icebreakers, struggling through heavy seas and the Arctic darkness to reach the scientists, with the nearest still several days away, said the magnetic storm which began Tuesday had thwarted efforts to maintain wireless communication with the camp. They said it probably would continue several days.

Career Ends

GEORGE GEDDES THOMSON
who passed away at hospital Tuesday evening following a lingering illness.

P. G. THOMSON, CITY LAWYER, DIES TUESDAY

One Of the Most Colorful Members Of Bar Succumbs

Peter Geddes Thomson, K.C., one of the most colorful members of the Alberta bar, died in the Royal Alexandra hospital Tuesday evening following a lingering illness. He was 63 years old.

Mr. Thomson was born at Cromdale, Morayshire, Scotland, and started his professional career in the office of A. J. and S. Graham, solicitors, Glasgow in 1908.

He came to Edmonton on December 24, 1912 and was admitted to the Alberta bar on June 17, 1913. He was appointed a King's Counsel, June 4, 1928.

Mr. Thomson took an active part in community life and was particularly interested in outdoor sports and all Scottish societies. He was also a great reader, and was considered one of the most brilliant advocates practising at the Alberta bar.

Funeral services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church on Saturday, February 12 at 2 o'clock with Rev. Ross K. Cameron officiating.

He leaves his widow and one step-son.

The proceedings of the supreme court were halted for a brief moment Wednesday morning while Mr. Justice W. R. Howson paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Thomson.

"I have just learned of the death of Mr. Thomson who has appeared in this court on a great many occasions. He enjoyed a very large practice in this court and was held in great respect by both members of the Alberta bench and bar.

GREAT LOSS

"I am sure my brother judges join me in expressing sorrow at his passing. Mr. Thomson will be a great loss to the legal profession and will be greatly missed not only in the courts but by his fellow practitioners.

"He was held in the highest esteem by all members of the bench."

PROSECUTION TO TAKE ACTION IN LIBEL CONVICTION

Unless George F. Powell, British Social Credit agent, and Joseph H. Unwin, Social Credit member of the legislature for Edson, have surrendered to their bail by Thursday morning the necessary ordinary steps to have them taken into custody will be made by the prosecution, George H. Steer, K.C., stated Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Powell and Mr. Unwin appealed conviction and sentences of six and three months with hard labor on charges of publishing defamatory libel well-knowing it to be false. Their appeals were dismissed.

Formal notices of this dismissal was filed at the court house Wednesday at noon and copies of the notice delivered to the solicitors for the two men.

By arrangement with counsel for the two men time was given to Powell and Unwin to clear up their affairs. Expiry of this time was fixed at noon Wednesday when it was expected both accused would surrender themselves to the police.

Neither Powell nor Unwin had surrendered late this afternoon, but would likely do so on Thursday, it was stated.

INDIANS FACE STARVATION IN NORTH COUNTRY

Indians in the north are really starving and unless something is done by the government soon great hardship will be suffered by most of them and many of them will be faced with death, stated Pilot Archie McMullen who brought Sir Hubert Wilkins to Edmonton in a Mackenzie Air Service plane Wednesday.

"In one district near Fort Simpson I know where there are three Indian families, one of them made up of seven persons, and their only food is one small fish each day," he said. "Wolves have killed off and chased out the game. There is nothing for them to eat," the airman said.

"Some relief could be given if the government would permit them to trap beaver now. If they did this they could replace the pelts for the food.

"Residents of the North West Territories are pressing the government for action, but so far nothing has been done," McMullen said.

Premier Seeking Term Remission Of Unwin, Powell

Immediate, full remission of sentences imposed upon George Frederick Powell, Douglas Social Credit adviser to the provincial government, and J. H. Unwin, M.L.A. for Edson and party whip in the legislature, by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives, following their conviction on libel charges, was requested on Wednesday by Premier William Aberhart, as attorney general of Alberta, in a wire forwarded to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice. Both sentences carried hard labor and appeal is made on account of the "disturbed condition of public opinion and its effect on the peace."

Wiring to Hon. Mr. Lapointe was discussed fully and extensively in the Social Credit caucus on Tuesday and while the caucus gave no instruction to the premier and attorney - general regarding the wire, they conveyed to him strongly expressed sentiments as to their own feelings and those of their constituents. It was consequent upon this expression that the wire was sent.

Mr. Unwin was sentenced to three months imprisonment and Mr. Powell to six months, both with hard labor.

The two accused appealed and their appeals were dismissed by unanimous decision of the appellate division of the supreme court on a judgment written by Chief Justice Horace Harvey and concurred in by the other members of the appellate division who heard the arguments presented.

Full text of Premier Aberhart's wire to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, is as follows:—

"Appeal of Powell and Unwin against convictions for defamatory libel and sentences of six and three months respectively with hard labor, was dismissed by appellate division here. They have no further right of court appeal, but having regard to disturbed condition of public opinion and its effect on the public peace I strongly urge full remission of sentences immediately. Would appreciate your usual prompt consideration."

It was learned that a large part of the morning, afternoon and evening sittings of the Social Credit members of the legislature caucus on Tuesday was devoted to a discussion of the cases of Messrs. Powell and Unwin.

In the meantime the two men concerned made their plans to take their departure for Fort Saskatchewan jail to serve their terms.

NORTH IRELAND CASTS ITS VOTES QUIETLY TODAY

BELFAST, Feb. 9.—Northern Ireland went to the polls quietly today. Within a few minutes of opening many polling stations were crowded with electors wishing to vote on their way to work. Owing to the crush many had to leave disappointed.

Large Amount of Gold-Backed Cash Stated Available

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—Locked in the vaults of the Bank of Canada is sufficient gold to permit the federal government to issue $718,000,000 in cash and still have a 25-per cent currency coverage, the House of Commons was told last night by W. A. Tucker, Liberal member for Rosthern and one of the monetary reformers in parliament.

LAPOINTE WILL GIVE HEED TO ALBERTA PLEA

Representations On Behalf Of Unwin and Powell To Be Heard

By THOS. WAYLING
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
OTTAWA, Feb. 9—Any representations made to the federal authorities on behalf of F. E. Powell and Joseph Unwin will be given every consideration by the minister of justice, it was learned here definitely today.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, the present minister has followed the practice of personally seeing legal or other representatives of persons coming under the hand of the law, and should counsel for the two men arrive in Ottawa he will be given a personal interview with Mr. Lapointe.

This practice has been followed to ensure that justice should be done and that no circumstance which might be of legal assistance to the accused shall be overlooked.

The minister has no executive authority. He cannot increase or reduce a sentence by one day, but he can take action under the ordinary procedure of parole laws which cover good conduct, sickness and so forth.

There is no question of the minister refusing to interfere in the Powell-Unwin cases. It is a question whether counsel can lay before the minister any violation of the rules of procedure, evidence and so forth, that will warrant action under the law. Any grounds for parole can be brought forward. In any event counsel for Unwin

LONDON, Feb. 9 — The lowest paid actor on the payroll of the Playhouse Theatre is "Punch," a small black and white kitten. Punch's salary is one shilling (25 cents) a week for a three-minute appearance in "Alice Through the Looking Glass."

10,000 Welsh Coal Miners On Strike

CARDIFF, Feb. 9.—Ten thousand Welsh miners in the Ogilwyn, Seven Sisters and Brynlog pits near Neath, decided to strike today in sympathy with 12 of their comrades who embarked on a "stay down" strike Monday and now have spent 39 hours in the mine.

The Saskatchewan Liberal was one of several western farmers who brought the plight of the prairies to the attention of the house while continuing the throne speech debate. He urged hard-surfacing of the trans-Canada highway, construction of roads from the American boundary to all national parks and other public works to relieve distress.

APPRECIATES AID

Mr. Tucker said Saskatchewan appreciated the aid offered by governments and individuals as a result of drought. Saskatchewan has suffered the worst calamity ever faced by a Canadian province and welcomed assistance.

Mr. Tucker said some people interpreted the St. Henry and Lotbiniere by-election results as a blow to imperialistic wars. As a Canadian, he was opposed to imperialistic wars and anyone who favored them should belong to another age. He was convinced the youth of Canada, particularly anyone who had a glimpse of the last war, was opposed wholeheartedly to imperialistic wars.

The people of the west, Mr. Tucker said, had been exploited for years by successive federal governments through fiscal policies.

Morrish Rapped By Parents At Trustee Meeting

Interference of Official to Obtain Transfer Of Teacher Brings Delegation to See Teacher is Reinstated

Irate mothers and fathers who felt that an injustice was done when Miss A. L. Wilson, grade four teacher at Garneau Public School, was transferred to Donald Ross School without explanation, filled the board room of the Edmonton Public School Board, Tuesday evening, and literally the fur flew in the most exciting meeting since the new board took office in November.

A delegation presented a petition demanding reinstatement of Miss Wilson, who, in the opinion of almost everyone concerned in the case, had given admirable service, but had been asked to leave Garneau and take up her duties in a smaller school.

As result of representations, Miss Wilson was immediately reinstated.

The statement, read by Mrs. E. Jacquet said: "We are a representative group from Garneau school district, parents of children attending that school, who feel that we have suffered a great loss in the transfer of Miss Wilson, our grade four teacher, to another school, and we should like an explanation of why this change in our school staff was made. We are of the opinion that one of the school trustees, Dr. Morrish, has exceeded his authority in the matter, and that there was no real cause or reason for Miss Wilson's transfer. We therefore suggest that Miss Wilson be immediately reinstated in her own room, in Garneau school, and that steps be taken to protect our very efficient staff from further interference by Dr. Morrish."

Miss Wilson, who has given 23 continuous years of service to the Edmonton Public School Board, was asked by Dave Garneau school in the latter part of January. Dr. Walter Morrish had brought pressure to bear on Supt. G. A. McKee, but "only over the telephone, and then transferred himself-board by his secretary," Trustee Morrish asserted.

Dr. Morrish has a son who started school at Garneau, he explained. His first year was a happy one

Transport Minister Explains Radio License Boost

INVASION OF U.S. CHAINS IS ATTACKED

Nationalization Of Broadcasting, New Stations, Corporation Aims

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—The increase in license fees is necessary to complete the nationalization of radio broadcasting in Canada and build two 50,000-watt stations this year, Transportation Minister Howe announced Tuesday in the House of Commons.

A discussion of Canadian Broadcasting Corporation affairs dominated the address debate Tuesday when Hon. Earl Lawson (Conservative, South York) accused the corporation of increasing American programs beyond limits of moderation, injuring Canadian industries by solicitation of American advertising and neglecting development of Canadian radio talent.

The decision arose from the government announcement two weeks ago that yearly radio license would be increased from $2 to $2.50 on April 1 and a separate fee must be paid for every set owned.

LIMIT EARNINGS

The CBC this year will earn $350,000 from commercial advertising, the minister said and it was planned to limit this to $500,000 in any year.

Two new stations will be built this year and obsolete equipment replaced. One of the new stations will be in the maritimes, the other in the west, completing a national chain stretching from one end of the country to the other.

Replying to charges of Americanizing of CBC programs, Mr. Howe said of the 98-hour broadcasting week only 8½ hours were devoted to programs carrying American advertising. They brought in a net revenue of $120,000. In addition, 17½ hours were given to American non-commercial programs such as the Metropolitan Opera, the New York Philharmonic and the Toscanini musical programs.

NO APOLOGIES

"I ask if there is anything offensive to Canadian listeners in accepting that kind of a program from the United States." Mr. Howe exclaimed, emphasizing the international aspect of good music. "The CBC makes no apologies to the Canadian people for bringing them these 17 hours of American (no advertising) programs."

The American commercial programs were chosen for their entertainment value, Mr. Howe said.

"Naturally," said Mr. Howe, "when the listening public turns to the publicly-owned stations, the privately-owned stations fight back. That is what is happening today.

"In connection with the sale of American advertising," said Mr. Lawson, "the C.B.C. has established an attractive range of discounts which, pyramid as the number of stations, in order to attract that Dixieland Station advertising. The Canadian stations cannot even arrange a chain of stations among themselves without going to the C.B.C. for approval."

Mr. Lawson claimed the C.B.C. paid singers and entertainers for broadcast purposes $5, $7.50 and $10 a performance. "Is that the encouragement we were told was to be given to Canadian talent in this country?" he asked.

In soliciting American advertisers, the Corporation was causing a serious loss to many industries in Canada, Mr. Lawson said. There was only so much advertising appropriated to Canada and the C.B.C. "is using the money of the people as a subsidy to enable it to undersell private enterprise."

Faces Fire

DR. W. MORRISH, M.L.A.
Edmonton public school trustee, underwent a gruelling cross-fire of irate parents and school board members at Tuesday night's board meeting for having a teacher transferred from Garneau to a smaller school. As result of protests the teacher was reinstated.

with a fine teacher. "Unfortunately we found that the teacher of the second grade was rather inefficient, so that year was not so good," he continued. Next year came the third year—it was the finest year of all. Dr. Morrish had heard that the teacher of the next grade, four, was a little "high strung and nervous." Her associates corroborated this information, Dr. Morrish said.

"It seemed to me that the children had had a bad break in grade two, but that they should have a good break in grade four. It was my suggestion that the grade three teacher, who had worked so admirably, teach grade four and that Miss Wilson take over the grade three class. That was early in the school year. At Christmas, nothing had been done." Dr. Morrish continued his defence.

FELT HAD GROUNDS

"From my information, I felt that I was doing her a favor and I felt I had fairly good grounds for my decision," the doctor said.

He was interested at this juncture by George Clayton, public school teachers' representative, who warned him that anything slanderous that was said about Miss Wilson would be remembered.

"There was no malice on my part when I spoke of Miss Wilson's nervous disposition," Dr. Morrish continued. "Representations of the parents had made it clear to me that they were having difficulties and, as I could see the difficulties in my own family, I felt this particular individual should be transferred."

SOMETHING WRONG

Mrs. Jacquest in speaking to the board said she was only telling you what is common knowledge in Garneau. Questionnaires have been sent out to us regarding the amount of homework given our children. You are satisfied that it is not too much. Children have to be punished for their misdemeanors and if we can't let the teachers handle the question of discipline in the schools, then there is something wrong with our system. We are all agreed that Miss Wilson was a good teacher and it is our contention that a teacher shouldn't have the right to change our teachers around when their actions don't quite satisfy him."

"I think that is also the feeling of the majority of the board," Trustee F. Armour Ford stated.

Asked if she had anything more to say Mrs. Jacquest came back with "Well as long as one man seems to be running things, I'm afraid to say anything," which was accompanied by loud expressions of approval from the delegation at the back of the board room.

concluded Mr. Justice Howson.

E. B. Cogswell, K.C., former crown prosecutor, who was engaged on a case in supreme court, associated himself with Mr. Justice Howson's remarks. He said: "I have known Mr. Thomson for a great many years. He was much respected by his brother lawyers who will all regret his death. He was an honorable gentleman and I have the greatest respect for him."

Hugh Calsis Macdonald, K.C.: "Although his death was not unexpected it is nevertheless a great shock to us, to hear of the death of Mr. Thomson. I had the pleasure of working with and against him on numerous occasions. He was a splendid man and an honorable opponent."

Gleave asked that there be no demonstration. "We want light, not heat!"

The demonstration was not planned, Mr. Chairman," Mrs. Jacquest smiled.

Mrs. C. Dorothy, who said she solicited the opinions of the 27 parents of children in grade four in regard to Miss Wilson's teaching ability, was greeted with 30 favorable reports from persons she spoke to, three from the three persons she wrote to; and only one unfavorable report—from Dr. Morrish.

NOT UPHELD

A. E. Might, principal of Garneau public school, came to the defence of Miss Wilson, as he explained that complaints which had been lodged with the superintendent by Dr. Morrish were not upheld by the rest of the parents.

"The superintendent had told me that a petition had been lodged with him about too much home work being given the pupils and suggested that I get the questionnaire to the parents to find out just exactly what they thought of it. Eight parents in grade three said the students received too much homework; two said they received sufficient, and 26 said 'not enough.' The other grades in which the questionnaire was sent out responded in much the same manner.

"The parents who signed 'too much homework' are parents whose children do not take advantage of the time offered them in school to do their work and who fail to work when the teacher is called to the door or is absent from the schoolroom for a short time," Mr. Might continued.

MORRISH DISAGREES

"I have observed in my own house, the amount of homework that is coming in, and for my own child, who is not at all at the bottom of the list, it is far too much," Dr. Morrish argued.

In a report of the superintendent, made from the results of Mr. Might's questionnaire, it was established that the average amount of homestudy for the students of grade nine was from 241 to 320 minutes a week (an average student should put in 600 minutes per week); for grade eight it was the same average and for grade seven, from 80 to 180 minutes weekly.

"The teachers labor under a strain when they feel that at any moment they may be moved as suits the pleasure of any individual trustee," Mrs. Jacquest said.

"Miss Wilson is definitely not the type to teach grade four. That is my opinion," Dr. Morrish contended.

WANT ASSURANCE

"The majority of the parents believe we have an efficient staff and we want the assurance of the board that there will be no interference on the part of the trustees individually," Mrs. Jacquest said.

"Why haven't we been told of this condition?" asked Trustee Ford.

"No transfer should have been made without the matter coming before the board," Chairman A. E. Ottewell affirmed. "It can only should be done; it must be done."

"We have to re-establish the dignity of the board. We must undo the wrong that has been done when any charges that are laid against the teacher can be thrashed out in the conference committee," Trustee Sydney Bowcott asserted.

Dr. Morrish argued that the matter was not a matter for the whole board, so much as one for the conference committee, to which Armour F. Ford gave an emphasis negative answer. "Dr. Morrish is chairman of the conference committee, so I am against it for that reason."

Taking Dr. Morrish at his word that he would "like to give the delegation a chance to say what they think about me in particular and of what I have done," members of the delegation gave him all the lurid details.

IS INSIDIOUS

Mr. Might said that a trustee had complained to the superintendent that his son had been sent to the cloakroom and had been asked to wear soft-soled shoes for gym work. This he failed to do, going to gym class in his stocking-feet. The boy's stockings became dirty and distasteful to both trustee and son. "On account of this a teacher of 23 years' good standing was informed that under pressure she was to leave Garneau and go to either Calder or Donald Ross. It is insidious and a travesty of justice," he said.

Dr. G. Rutledge, who lives near Dr. Morrish and "voted for him," ordered that the matter be not referred to any committee, but that it be settled "right here and now. I don't know of one dissatisfied parent, except, of course, Dr. Morrish. We aren't having any Hitler tactics here."

Mrs. Toller and Mrs. Miller both spoke highly of Miss Wilson.

LASTS THREE HOURS

The meeting lasted for three hours and in defiance of the board heard the entire case from beginning to end. Asked by Mr. Clayton as to who appointed the new teacher to take Miss Wilson's place, Mr. McKee would only state that she had been suggested to him. Questioned after the meeting he only smiled and said, "Oh, I won't talk about that."

The sum total of the evening was the reinstatement of Miss Wilson to her former position forthwith.

LEGISLATURE TO CONSIDER CONSTITUTION

possible their will regarding the alterations suggested.

(b) We therefore intend submitting the matter of unemployment insurance to our legislature as soon as possible after they meet on Feb. 10 next and will advise you what they tell us regarding the will of their constituents.

GREATLY ASSIST

In the meantime, it would greatly assist the cabinet here in their representations to the legislature concerning your proposals, if you would give the following information:

1—Is it absolutely certain that any alteration of the British North America Act is necessary? Legislation regarding old age pensions would seem to have been a case on a par with your present proposals for unemployment insurance and no such alteration as now contemplated seemed necessary there.

2—We shall, we know, be asked by a majority of the members of our legislature—

(a) Why should we not enable a portion of the product of the machines to reach the men they displace without penalizing the workers?

(b) Why should this legislature not be allowed at least to attempt to do so since no other government body seems to be willing to try?

(c) Why should we tax the workers into a state of indigence today only to hasten with mathematical progression entry into an even worse and more general indigence tomorrow? That there is potential plenty for all is not doubted by any informed person.

(d) Until we are producing all we can of what we want, why should we countenance exactions from the workers' already insufficient wages, when it is certain that simultaneous taxation of employers must lead to price increases?

(e) Why should the farmers and the agricultural workers of a province like Alberta who are unlikely to benefit by unemployment insurance be called upon to sustain through increased taxation and higher living and operating costs, the disproportionate number of unemployed industrial workers in other provinces.

What we need in Alberta is crop insurance.

If your cabinet, or any of your advisers on legal, financial or economic matters would be good enough to send us what they suggest would be satisfactory answers to these questions, we promise you to see that they are put fairly in reply to the situations which we, with certainty, anticipate.

We hope to hear from you at an early date with any clarification you can offer us, in order that your case for unemployment insurance may be fairly and reasonably understood.

and Powell will have access to the minister and every representation made will be given consideration not only by the minister but the law officers of the crown.

No statement of any kind has been authorized by the minister of justice as to the Powell-Unwin cases. Certainly he has never been known to prejudice any case nor to refuse to receive representatives of convicted men and women, whether eminent counsel or humble relative.

Neil D. Maclean, K.C. who was associated with Hugh Calais Macdonald, K.C. in the appeal of G. F. Powell, left Edmonton on Tuesday night for Ottawa to put the case for both Powell and Unwin before the minister of justice personally.

HUGE FUND OF CASH SAID TO BE AVAILABLE

The western people believed the government had given them an opportunity through the Rowell commission to air their grievances and seek remedies. For that reason alone, he would support the government in the present debate.

Mr. Tucker said he wished to attack the common belief the west had been extravagant. Saskatchewan until 1929 had a debt of only $43,000,000, one of the lowest in Canada, and had assets like buildings, highways and bridges to show for it.

People in the west lived as close to a bare standard of living as any in Canada, he said.

He cited figures to show 65.4 per cent of Ontario's farmers had automobiles compared with 47.1 in Saskatchewan; 54.1 per cent in Ontario had telephones and 34.2 in Saskatchewan; 19.8 in Ontario had electric light in their homes; 2.8 in Saskatchewan. He suggested the figures, for 1931, did not show extravagance.

TIME MAKE CHOICE

The time had come when a choice had to be made, Mr. Tucker said, between driving the western farmer out of business or paying big salaries to the executives of the automobile industry and making vast profits for the textile industry. The west could not continue under the high tariffs that existed.

"If you don't want all the western farmers coming to eastern cities on relief, you will deal with this problem," he said.

School teachers in Saskatchewan were getting as little as $300 a year, he continued. It was a dangerous policy to ask teachers to take so little and expect them to teach the merits of democracy, to tell the children the present system is just and fair when they knew the government was collecting $100,000,000 a year in income tax without a high tax rate. When they knew there were people drawing huge incomes as a result of high tariffs. The Liberal party had declared unemployment to be Canada's major national problem at the 1935 general election. Yet after two years in office the government was still asking how the problem was to be solved.

Liberal trade policies were working well and gradually eliminating unemployment. But while the long range policies were progressing special provision should be made to meet the immediate situation and provide employment for those out of work.

Canada should make the trans-Canada highway a hard-surface road and build hard-surface roads from the American boundary to all national parks, Mr. Tucker said. They would develop enough traffic to pay for themselves in 10 years. With the gold in the Bank of Canada $718,000,000 of currency could be issued with a 25-per cent coverage. They would provide $500,000,000 in new money, enough to put all the young people to work. If there was any danger of inflation power could be taken to compel the banks to increase their reserves in the Bank of Canada.

JOHN BOYCHUK FOUND GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER

Kaleland District Farmer Sentenced To Five Years In Prison

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
VEGREVILLE, Feb. 9.—Sentence of five years in Prince Albert penitentiary was imposed by Mr. Justice T. M. Tweedie in Supreme Court here Tuesday evening on John Boychuk, Kaleland district farmer, when found guilty by a jury of manslaughter. He was charged with murdering John Pohoriszchuk, his hired man, on December 28 last, but the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter with a recommendation for mercy. Mr. Justice Tweedie said he concurred with the verdict.

Medical evidence disclosed that deceased suffered multiple external injuries probably from repeated blows, a skull fracture, and seven rib fractures. Cause of death was given by Dr. J. J. Ower, as shock and multiple injuries.

Defence witnesses, John Smoliak and Nick Olynyk, testified they had seen the hired man threaten Boychuk, and Smoliak swore he had seen Pohoriszchuk lift a frying pan to threaten his employer, and that deceased had boasted that he had put Boychuk out of his own house.

M. J. O'Brien, Mundare barrister, in his address to the jury, asked for accused's freedom on a self-defence plea. Guy Patterson, crown prosecutor, asked the jury to return a verdict of murder, the only verdict, he submitted, that could be reached on the evidence before the court.

U.S. Volunteer Pilots Big Factor China Air Force

AIRPLANES IN BATTLE FLOWN BY FOREIGNERS

Foreign Legion Of Air Is Proving Valuable Aid To Sino Forces

By JAMES A. MILLS

Associated Press Foreign Staff

HANKOW, China, Feb. 9 — Chinese sources asserted Tuesday that United States volunteer pilots were taking increasingly important parts in China's attempts to rebuild her air defences against Japanese invasion.

This disclosure came as Japanese bombing squadrons, apparently in retaliation for a Chinese air attack Monday in which Americans were said to have taken part, raided Hankow, temporary capital of China. One Japanese raider was shot down.

Seventeen Japanese planes in two groups bombed the city, causing seven Chinese deaths.

FOREIGN LEGION

Informed persons said several American fliers joined China's "foreign legion" of the air, and were being given leadership in expedition of Chinese air forces.

Chinese officials declined to give details concerning the "foreign legion," pleading reasons of military secrecy.

Informed persons said numerous airplanes purchased by the Chinese government in Great Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia were arriving in Central China and were making possible more active Chinese aerial resistance to the Japanese. Many of these, it was said, were flown by non-Chinese.

IMPORTANT ROLE

Chinese military despatches said the "Foreign Legion" played an important role Monday in operations along the Hwai River, northeast of Hankow, now China's major battlefield. There pilots flying highspeed bombers made in the United States were said to have blasted so effectively at Japanese artillery positions and troop concentrations that Chinese infantry for the first time in the seven-months-old war was able to advance with support of its own air force.

DAIRY CATTLE BREEDERS SEE MENACE IN OIL

Livestock Men Crowd Toronto For Annual Conventions Of Groups

TORONTO, Feb. 9—Dairy cattle breeders are concerned regarding large imports of vegetable oils which were seriously affecting their industry, R. G. Davidson of North Hatley, Que., Liberal member of parliament for Stanstead, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Jersey Cattle club here Tuesday.

In 1936, more than 2,000,000 pounds of vegetable oils were imported into Canada, Mr. Davidson said. In 1923, 3,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine were imported. He said this was a better product than the present oil as it contained some animal fat. Mr. Davidson urged dairymen to seek to bring about curtailment of imported vegetable oils.

THRONG TORONTO

Cattle, swine and horse breeders thronged Toronto as 10 organizations held their annual meetings here. The Canadian Ayrshire Breeders Association; Canadian Jersey Cattle Club; Canadian Shorthorn Association; Canadian Hunter Society; Canadian Swine Breeders Association; Ontario Aberdeen Angus Association; Ontario Hereford Breeders Association; Canadian Hackney Horse Society; Dairy Shorthorn Horse Association and The Canadian Pony Society.

The report of Dr. John Folinsbee, western director, showed that despite severe conditions Jersey trademark milk has been in great demand in Edmonton and Calgary. This demand has caused producers to go far afield for stock, Dr. Folinsbee said.

JUDGES NAMED

Judges appointed: O. C. Evans, Hanley, B.C., for the Canadian National Exhibition, and L. C. McQuat, general agricultural agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, for the Royal Winter Fair.

N. W. Sharpe, Stettler, Alta., was elected first vice-president of the Shorthorn Association.

The Canadian Swine Breeders Association adopted a resolution which recommended that rail grading should replace live grading for all Canada.

COMPENSATION FOR TARIFFS IS PROPOSAL

Liberal Member Says All Parts Of Country Can't Be Satisfied

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Hon. W. R. Motherwell (Lib., Melville), reviewed the tariff history of Canada and said in 60 years very little real change up or down had been made. Governments elected to office after elections fought on tariff issues, did not make such great changes in the tariff, he said in the debate on the Speech from the Throne.

The Liberal party now appeared to be following a policy of removing the tariff "by easy stages."

"Now I think that is the sound way economically," he said, "but it is no good at all politically. So I would not envy the Minister of Finance not to make the stages too easy."

Little good had come from fighting elections on a tariff issue. Western Canada could not force its will on the majority in the east. The tariff cry in the west had accomplished nothing but "sad given years to a lot of ill-feeling and wasted time in parliament.

"We have been barking up the wrong tree about tariffs," he said. "No tariff could ever satisfy all parts of the country, least of all western Canada. The policy of compensations to parts of the country suffering from the tariff should be tried.

"Let us look at what we want in western Canada in the way of compensation," Mr. Motherwell said. "First of all we want not a wheat board but a grain board and we want a grain board that is self-sustaining and non-obstructing."

Celebrated Italian Concert Organist Delights Audience

Dazzling his audience with a display of digital and pedal dexterity such as has been seldom witnessed here and confirming advance information regarding his virtuosity at the keyboard, Fernando Germani, distinguished and internationally celebrated Italian concert organist appeared in recital at the Empire theatre on Tuesday night and won the unreserved plaudits of the audience that all but filled the theatre.

The appearance of Germani hails the further distinction of marking the initial concert appearance here of the Hammond organ, an instrument that has not only revolutionized the organ world, but has won unstinted admiration from many of the world's leading musicians.

APPEAR EASY

That Germani is a master-organist is an incontrovertible fact. He is the happy possessor of a tremendous technique, as comprehensive and all-embracing that even the most difficult compositions appear easy for him to execute.

Though a young man, he is a mature musician, as one would be after studying composition with Ottorino Respighi and the other musical subjects with scarcely less famous teachers. As an organist and pianist as well he has won wide renown and has appeared as soloist with such great orchestral bodies as the Philadelphia Symphony, the Chicago Symphony and others.

His playing on Tuesday night was truly magnificent. His graduation of dynamics, his nuances and ripe musicianship were deeply impressive. Backed by the resources of this new giant of instruments in the musical world, he produced effects so light, delicate and graceful that they seemed as enchanting as the Pipes of Pan must have been.

Lightsome touches on the pedal notes frequently accentuated the softer upper passages and when power was called for on all sides, both Mr. Germani and the organ came through in masterful fashion.

MASTERY IMPRESSIVE

His mastery of the instrument was impressive. The various combinations used were such as to display the tonal qualities of the instrument to a high degree. Single and double reed instruments, the horns, trumpets, basses and other instruments were all happily combined in his groupings and the clinging of the winds instrument combinations was a delight.

As a display of virtuosity, some of his numbers left little to be desired and the prodigiously difficult pedal scale passages were executed as rapidly as many fine players could do them with their hands.

As it was the first concert by a Hammond organ in this city, great interest centred thereon and the instrument stood the test splendidly.

Overlapping Federal Sales Tax Criticized

MONTREAL, Feb. 9—Overlapping, duplication and "even multiplication" of the federal tax was criticized in a resolution adopted Tuesday by the Show Manufacturers' Association of Canada, calling for amendment of the sales tax to provide compensation of "not less than five per cent." of taxes payable by manufacturers and wholesalers. H. S. Leckie, of Vancouver, was elected an executive member for the western district.

Although the acoustics of the theatre never have been of the best, the tone quality of the organ was well carried by the auditorium. The rapidity with which the organ was installed testified to the skill of the installation engineer and his knowledge of music.

There are no pipes, nor reeds. The whole organ is compact, neat and serviceable.

HUGE SUCCESS

The tone is crisp, clear and there is an instantaneous response to the depression of a key.

On the whole, both Germani and the organ were a huge success.

The program, which was designed to show off the resources of the organ and the virtuosity of the artist, included Vivaldi's Concerto in A Minor; Handel's Largo; Dandquin's Noel; Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D Minor; the Toccata from the Fifth Symphony, by Widor; Boex's Glaze, Brahms' Lullaby; Rimsky-Korsakoff's the Flaxen Hair and Mason's Etude de Concert.

Enlightening program notes were penned by Pitts Sanborn, distinguished New York music critic.

Mr. Germani was the recipient of a warm ovation and can rest assured that he will always find a warm welcome here.—J. O.

Radio Tube Profiteering In Canada Said Extensive

By THOMAS WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 9—Profiteering in radio tubes is alleged to have assumed wide proportions in Canada and the tariff board will investigate this allegation in its study of the radio industry.

Radio tubes selling at 27 cents in the United States cost 67 cents wholesale in Canada, and anything from $2 up retail. Other radio parts are said to be charged for out of all proportion to their manufacturing cost.

The suggestion has been made that instead of charging a license of $2.50 a set, the government would impose a more equitable charge and collect more revenue by putting the tax on tubes instead of the set.

Last year 2,940,000 Canadian made tubes were sold in Canada and 536,000 imported tubes. A tax of ten cents a tube would bring in $347,600 on the new tubes alone.

By taxing or licensing sets according to the number of tubes the high priced sets would pay a heavier tax than the cheap little sets which are all the poorer people can afford, and would equalize the tax according to the ability to pay.

It is also suggested that battery sets be taxed only the present $2 or reduced to $1 or even made free. The battery sets are used in the rural districts where the owners are too poor for electricity and mostly too poor to buy newspapers and depend on the radio largely for their news.

MAJESTIES TO VISIT FRANCE THIS SUMMER

Will Be First Trip To Foreign Country Since Accession to Throne

LONDON, Feb. 9—The King and Queen will visit France for four days this summer, marking the first state visit by Their Majesties to a foreign country since their accession.

An official statement issued from Buckingham Palace stated:

"The King and Queen have accepted with much pleasure an invitation from the president of the French republic to pay a state visit to Paris from June 28 to July 1. During his stay the King will unveil the Australian national war memorial at Villers-Bretonneux."

In making the unveiling the King will be following the example of his brother, the Duke of Windsor, who as King Edward VIII went to France to unveil the Canadian memorial at Vimy Ridge on July 26, 1936, in the presence of thousands of Canadian veterans.

Details of Their Majesties' visit to President Albert Lebrun of France have not been arranged but the plans will be discussed during the next few weeks by French Ambassador Corbin and members of the King's household.

Papers Hail Royal Visit

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Newspapers today editorially hailed the approaching visit of Their Majesties to Paris as evidence of the friendship existing between Great Britain and France.

The Daily Mail (Independent) said:

"The occasion will serve to renew the cordial esteem which both countries feel for their neighbors across the channel."

The Herald (Labor):

"It symbolizes the deep and intimate friendship that now exists between France and our own country."

Cattlemen Ponder Speaker Warnings

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—Two Canadian dairy cattle organizations today pondered warnings against what speakers described as large imports of vegetable oils into Canada. Members of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club and the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association, in annual convention here, were told the imports seriously affected their industry.

C.B.C. Guarding Against U.S. Ownership of Radio

By THOMAS WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—The proposed independent nation-wide radio network to replace the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would throw the whole Canadian system into the American type of sponsored radio and inevitably lead to the creation of subsidiary American networks in Canada, in the opinion of radio authorities here.

The Canadian Broadcasters' Association which sponsors the plan proposed to finance radio by a reduction of the license fee to $1 and by advertising receipts. In secret session the matter was discussed and it is understood that their estimate of advertising revenue is $4,000,000.

The Canadian Radio Commission and the subsequent C.B.C. both set rigid limits on advertising. The Broadcasters' Association would reverse entirely the policy recommended by the original parliamentary committee and later laid down definitely by parliament.

There are at present 82 broadcasting stations in Canada, nine of which are owned and operated by the C.B.C. and the remainder privately owned. The private stations are under government regulation and while they can and do accept sponsored programs and advertising, they are not permitted to set up networks. This policy is due to a desire by the authorities to prevent such networks being developed and becoming subsidiaries of American systems, and the establishment of vested rights in Canada.

Canadian private stations know their tenure is not permanent. They are licensed only from year to year.

ICE AROUND COMMONS IS SAID DISGRACE

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Icy sidewalks around the parliament buildings Tuesday provoked the ire of T. L. Church (Cons., Toronto-Broadview). He brought the matter up in the House of Commons and described the condition as "dangerous" and a "disgrace."

"We are not all figure skaters like those on the front benches," said the Toronto member.

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. member of parliament for Rosetown-Biggar, broke his wrist when he fell on a street here a few days ago, it was learned Tuesday. The injury is not keeping him away from the House of Commons.

PLYMOUTH, Montserrat, Feb. 9. — Two sharp earth tremors were recorded by the seismograph here Monday, but no damage was reported on the island. The shocks came after a long period of relative quiet.

Arthur Langley Appeal Allowed

Appeal of Arthur Langley, Edmonton brakeman, against a judgment of His Honor Judge F. L. Crawford dismissing his damage action against the Canadian National Railways was allowed by the Alberta court of appeal in a judgment handed down on Tuesday. The judgment was written by Mr. Justice Frank Ford.

The court ordered the judgment of Judge Crawford quashed and awarded Mr. Langley $495 general and special damages, and the costs of the appeal and trial in the lower court.

The action arose out of an accident at Ryley yards during switching operations. It was found by the court that the right of way at the point where the accident occurred had been permitted to become peculiarly and unnecessarily dangerous.

Langley suffered injuries to his left ankle when he stepped on a large stone as he descended from a box car.

Seed Meetings

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—Annual meetings of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association will be held at the agricultural college, Guelph, June 15-17, 1938, it was announced here Tuesday. F. W. Towney-Smith, Lashburn, Sask., is president.

TIME IS WRONG FOR IMMIGRANTS, MEMBER STATES

REGINA, Feb. 9.—Backers of proposed plans which would assist immigrants to settle in Saskatchewan were more concerned with "making something out of their plans" than with the farmers of the province, the Saskatchewan legislature was told Tuesday by Co-operative Commonwealth Federation opposition members.

Government members, headed by public works minister George Spence, defended the feasibility of such plans, contending that if Canada hoped to retain British markets, it was necessary through the plans to keep the goodwill of the British people. Several times during the debate mention was made of the plan advocated by Brig.-Gen. M. L. Hornby of Lethbridge.

It was the "height of folly" to bring assisted immigrants to Saskatchewan at present when agriculture was struggling under a load of debt which might never be paid, the C.C.F. members replied.

New Mauretania Is Now Approaching Form For Launching

BRIKENHEAD, Eng., Feb. 9—The largest project of England's shipyards, the new Cunarder Mauretania has now reached a stage where seven of the 9 decks have been completed, entailing the use of 3,000,000 rivets.

The 35,000-ton ship will be launched July 28 by Lady Bates, wife of Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the line. Before the Mauretania makes her maiden voyage in the summer of 1939 she will have given employment to 150,000 persons. Spacious third class facilities will be a feature.

The new Mauretania will be much smaller than the Queen Elizabeth, being built in Scotland, or the Queen Mary, now in service.

Consolidation Of Health Services Is Being Sought

A committee consisting of Dr. Walter Morrish, Dr. G. M. Little, Dr. Gordon Swallow and A. E. Ottewell will meet Friday for a consolidation of the city health and school services, it was announced at the regular meeting of the city management and health committee meeting of the Public school board, Tuesday evening.

Appointment of a woman associate physical training director was also under discussion.

Speaking of the suggested amendments to the School Act in reference to the non-resident fees of the high school pupils, proposed by the Calgary school board, A. E. Ottewell intimated that "it is necessary to overhaul the whole matter and get together with the department of education to get the Act. If the amendments are to be brought before the house at this session it is necessary to get the thing in shape right away." The matter was referred to the finance committee to be looked into.

Canuck Battalion Reaches Valencia On Way To Rest Camp

MADRID, Feb. 9.—Members of the Spanish government's International Brigade, composed largely of Canadian Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion, weary after a month on the Teruel front, reached Valencia today on their way to a rest camp.

Details of the brigade's casualties were not made public but it was known 325 replacements had been ordered from training camps to bring the unit to normal strength of 2,000, with which it went into action.

The brigade is composed of the Mackenzie - Papineau Battalion—which is said to have suffered its worst losses of the war at Teruel—the Lincoln Battalion and Lincoln Battalions, and a British Battalion.

HAMILTON NEXT

The street railway in Hamilton, Ont., is for sale; has been for some time. For the reason that it is losing money, though owned by the Hydro, which has much electric energy to spare Premier Hepburn wants the Dominion to let it sell some in the United States.

The city was invited to buy the system for four millions, but declined, probably arguing that if the Hydro couldn't make it pay the city couldn't. Now negotiations are under way with private interests to take it over for one million. The prospective buyers are said to be operators of coach lines, who would only buy the street railway to scrap it, and replace the cars with busses, either of the trolley or the Diesel type.

It is hardly news any more to read that a street railway is being dismantled and busses substituted. The replacement is going on all across the country. The news interest is only in the time and place where the modernistic urge has struck latest. The street car is rattling and banging its noisy way out of the municipal scene. If those in Hamilton are anything like Edmonton earn, the nerve-shattered populace are doubtless praying that the deal will go through and the rubber-tired carriers get into action soon.

Hamilton, by the way, is a city of 153,000 people. Edmonton's population is 85,000. If busses can handle the crowds in Hamilton, they might be able to take care of Edmonton crowds.

WHAT FOLLOWS?

Having formally, as well as actually, taken unto himself complete power over the control of Germany, neighboring governments are naturally wondering what Mr. Hitler intends to do with the vast power he so eagerly sought and has gained.

His record does not suggest that place is to him an end in itself, but that authority is desired for the carrying through of very positive public policies. The Reichsfuehrer has been a doer, not a poser merely. Nowhere is it assumed that long-sought glory and power, now that they are gained these he will content himself with consolidating his position and holding the limelight. He is expected to exercise his power; not simply to occupy the post.

There are two guesses as to the future course. One is that the uncrowned Kaiser intends to launch Germany on a career of conquest, as his Italian ally did in Africa and his Japanese ally is doing in China. The other is that the new "purge" is a first step toward abandoning the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo "axis" and adopting a policy of reconciliation toward Britain and France.

No attention seems to be paid to the possibility that he may do neither of those things, but may take a middle course, concerning himself primarily with the wellbeing of the German people and only secondarily with international politics. Yet that course is equally open, involves no risks, and at the same time would suit times for Germany and a long "reign" for the Nazi chief. With a flair for doing the unexpected, Mr. Hitler may again confound the prophets, by taking this middle course.

SENSE ABOUT THE TARIFF

When Labor Minister Rogers told the House of Commons that tariff policies must not be weighted against provinces dependent upon export trade, he made a telling argument for fiscal sanity. By giving advantages to the manufacturing centres of Eastern Canada at the expense of the West, the tariff nourishes disunion rather than concord and progress.

His further argument about the folly of precipitate tariff reductions should be seen in just perspective. Mr. Rogers made it clear he was not defending industries flourishing because of unmerited tariff favors. He was merely trying to gauge the wisest pace at which they could be stripped of these benefits, without abrupt or unnecessary injury to the national economy.

The trouble with these "infant industries" is that they never grow up. Protected originally due to their weakness, their owners now make a virtue out of incapacity and say that their continued existence depends upon assistance from Canadians taxed to maintain them.

Parliament would be well advised to heed Mr. Rogers' cogent advice by framing a national fiscal policy whose terms will no longer be moulded by pressure from Ontario and Quebec for tariff favors which react to prevent the export of western products.

That was the deadly feature of the trade-killing tariff policy introduced by the Bennett Government. As it barred imports it prevented the sale of western products abroad, and thus still further reduced the buying power of the west and the level of prices, so that the low prices for such products as the west had for export.

THE LEGISLATURE

Reporters with a turn for analysis tell us that when the legislature meets tomorrow the members will be divided into six groups, distinguishable by arrangement of the seats or by known lines of cleavage. When they were last together the groups numbered five. The result of the "unity movement" has been to add another to the already over-long list of political divisions and sub-divisions in the house.

This was accomplished by the defeat of the Government candidate in Lethbridge, leaving the Social Credit contingent smaller by one than at the last session. Which loss may—or may not—be off-set by the re-alignment of the lately "insurgent" Social Crediters with the Government supporters. There is nothing in the line-up to suggest political instability or indicate difficulty for the Ministers in carrying through their measures.

Of the program little has been disclosed in advance, save that debt settlement legislation of some kind will be brought down. That could almost be assumed, if the information had not been given out. With eastern members of parliament threatening to destroy the Farmers Creditors' Arrangement Act, a situation is in sight which would compel the western legislatures to deal with the debt question in some way.

And if the Act is continued the process of settlement under it is so slow as to make a clearing-up of the debt "mess" possible only within twenty-five to fifty years. There are many reasons why so prolonged a readjustment would be publicly disadvantageous. The alternatives are to continue the moratorium or enact some general measure of debt reduction. Since the moratorium settles nothing, the choice is narrowed down to action by the legislature if there is to be any faster headway in the clearing-up process.

What further legislation, if any, will be introduced to pave the way for the establishment of Social Credit has not been hinted. Since the powers conferred upon the Board are already broad, and acts passed at the last session are still before the Supreme Court at Ottawa, the probability would seem to be the members will be called on to do little in this respect at the coming session.

AN INTERESTING POINT

An Interesting point for sportsmen everywhere recently cropped up in Sydney, Australia. It appears that the public and the officials alike were bitterly disappointed at the indifferent manner displayed by Don Budge in his tennis exhibition match with Baron von Cramm. The champion was badly defeated, and the sporting editors and those who attended the match got a definite impression that he was quite indifferent as to whether he won or not—an impression which Budge himself strengthened by his "explanation":

"I don't want to be keyed up when nothing is barging over the net. If I am beaten at home in an exhibition they aren't concerned. They naturally say, 'Why should he kill himself in an exhibition?' I took the same outlook here."

That may be all very well, but not for the Australians, who paid as much as $7.50 each to see the world's tennis champion in action. As the secretary of the Tennis Association pointedly observes: "If Budge didn't intend to try, why did he play?"

The whole thing boils down into this: What is the most satisfactory interpretation of what is truly sporting effort means? It has perhaps never been more cogently epitomized than by Sir Henry Newbolt:

"To set the Cause above renown,
To love the game beyond the prize."

That seems to be the idea of the Australians, too. It might be worth while for world champions who go on exhibition and invite the public to pay hard cash to see them play to consider the matter seriously. His salutary lesson was obviously not lost on Budge, after reflection, for he redeemed himself the next day.—Montreal Star.

SOME ENGLISH HUMOR

Included in a new slimming diet is a certain quantity of beef fat. The theory is that constant dripping will wear away a stone.

"Motorists are lacking in one thing," said a speaker recently. Horse sense presumably.

"Many a fortune has been made by the judicious spending of a false report," declares a writer. So rumors do gain currency.

In the opinion of an archaeologist, pieces of mended pottery now being unearthed in Palestine suggest that there were economic depressions in ancient times. Or that domestic servants were much the same as they are now.

"I am quite dazed at the requests made by my eldest boy for sums of money," confesses a correspondent. A touch of the sun.

"Millions of pounds are spent in policing cities and towns up and down the country, and what do we get in return for it?" asks a writer. A few coppers.—London Humorist.

UNSEEN TAX DRAIN

A chamber of commerce in the east has compiled a list of 47 days on which many business men will have tax matters to attend to in 1938. These days include the dates for returns and payments on income, property, sales, business, social service, and all other taxes, and the returns accompanying them from the federal down through the governmental structure to the municipalities.

The list indicates one source of tax drains that never show up in the figures—the cost of paying them. Every firm of any size has had to hire men whose duty is exclusively to see that tax returns are filed and payments made.

Even individuals and small businesses must devote an increasing amount of their time to the mechanics of tax payment. In many cases the burden of computing the taxes is greater than the burden of paying them.

Every possible simplification of this business of paying taxes is a real tax reduction without depriving the governmental bodies concerned of any needed revenue. For the time, energy and trouble spent in preparing returns, making reports, and actually making payments, is a dead loss all around, hampering the payer without adding to the amount received by government.—Victoria Times.

MUCH OR NOT ENOUGH

Public opinion throughout Canada will hold Mr. Bennett highly culpable in his charges of election corruption unless he either withdraws the little he has said or amplifies his vague innuendoes with chapter and verse.

When Mr. Bennett raised this question the other day he enjoyed the special privilege extended to parliamentarians of speaking on the floor of the House. There was nothing to prevent him from quoting actual instances of the electoral corruption that seemed to agitate him so deeply.

If he knew of actual instances of this kind, it was his duty as a good citizen and as a responsible public leader to expose them freely.

If he had no actual instances at his command, it was equally his duty as a good citizen and a responsible public leader to refrain from cheap gossip and unsubstantiated hearsay.

Surely the House of Commons is no place for scandalous rumors.

Mr. Bennett said either too little or too much.

The fact is that Mr. Bennett, with all his fine qualities, is not above giving a pretty strenuous and mischievous game of politics when the mood seizes him.

And that the mood had seized him on this particular occasion is shown in the fact that he coupled with his denunciation of electoral corruption a lurid patriotic frenzy over the disclosures of defense "secrets" on this coast.

All this blather was pure politics and the fact that election corruption was connected in his mind with a wanton slap at Hon. Ian Mackenzie shows pretty plainly that the origin of his hostile mood could be traced back to a little personal soreness remaining after the Victoria by-election.

It was Mr. Mackenzie who refuted his patriotic ditherings at Victoria. It was the election result that wounded his pride. The connection between this incident and the subject matter of his speech would be clear to even the most amateur psychiatrist.

Mr. Bennett did not appear to be impressed with the need for secrecy when he was shouting in Victoria about the kind of guns that were being mounted on H.M.C.S. Alberni.

Nor did he find anything wrong with the electoral system until his nominee, even with Mr. Bennett's aid, was ignominiously defeated.

We have a great respect for Mr. Bennett. We admire his ability and his honesty and usually his sincerity.

We fear, however, that he suffered a rather serious relapse in the latter respect when he stood up in the House to assuage the smarting of his wounds with what was nothing more than a little highly-colored political mud.—Vancouver Sun.

A QUEEN'S LAST JOURNEY

Thomas Moore's melancholy verses—

I feel like one
Who treads alone
Some banquet hall deserted;
Whose lights are fled
Whose garlands dead
And all but he departed—

are nowhere more applicable than to that little band of Englishmen, Scotchmen and Americans who are now taking the old liner Leviathan, once queen of the Western oceans, on her last crossing.

There is something infinitely pathetic in the spectacle of a once-proud ship going to the sad shipbreakers' yard. Perhaps the most ignominious death a ship can die. And especially is this true in the case of the Leviathan, for once, as the Vaterland, she was the world's largest ship and the finest; later, rechristened and under our own flag, she achieved the heyday of her glory as a transport during the war.

The rest of her career was one largely of frustration, but even the more so because of that her ending brings a lump into the throat, a tear to the eye of all who love ships. For she had endured the vicissitudes of life with the regal dignity that was hers by right, and to the world, passing her by as she trotted at her Hoboken prison, her bright-work green with verdigris, her hull splotched with red lead and with rust, she conveyed some of the majesty of great ships and wide seas.

To those who saw her in her last days as the riggers and machinists were preparing her for her last and longest voyage, she presented a spectacle of despair. Gone were her one towering masts, sundered to make room for her passage beneath the bridges of the Firth or Forth. Her great public rooms were scenes of desolation; ghosts of other days thronged the grand salon; Marie of Rumania had walked these spacious public rooms; the Kaiser, before he became the hated war lord of a continent, had presented these ancient paintings by the brush of the Flemish painter Gerard de Lairesse; their glowing colors, covered by dirt, hidden beneath carelessly flung coverings.

The remnants of the Leviathan's once splendid library were perhaps the most nostalgic traces of past greatness. Four or five dust-covered books, their pages largely unread, their fly-leafs bearing the publishing dates of 1910 or 1911, before the Great Tragedy came to the world —books like "Der Stadt," by Wilson; "The Historic Notebook," by Brewer; or "Deutsches Arzneibuch"—these "dated" the "Levi" and proved even more graphically than all her dust and desolation that she was old.

Yes, her day is done, but those who remember her standing in and out of the River, with the flag at the gaff and smoke streaming from her funnels, will salute her in her passing, and say: "Here was a ship!"—New York Times.

Your Health

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Lima Beans and lentils are inexpensive foods which are often used by those who are looking for something in the diet which will provide an abundance of food materials at lost cost. While such foods indeed supply a great deal of nourishment, I find that their use should be restricted to those in good health, having the digestive power equal to the task of handling them.

One of the important things to know about the dried lima beans is that they are alkaline forming. Those who are trying to balance the use of the acid forming foods by taking others which are in the alkaline forming group, will be appreciative of this fact.

After being cooked, dried limas possess a rich, nut-like flavor. They are not expensive and the home-maker may use them when it is desirable to cut the cost of the meal. It must be remembered that the dried lima beans absorb water and when you buy two cups of the beans this means you will have six cups when they are cooked.

Lima beans are a good source of protein, containing about 18 per cent. However, further proteins should be taken by the use of meat, milk, eggs, or fish at some other meal of the day. Lima beans also contain a large amount of starch, and it is the combination of the starch with the protein which gives them somewhat of a tendency to cause flatulence in those with weak digestions.

When you use lima beans, it is a good plan to make them the main part of the meal, using in addition, plenty of milk and raw and cooked vegetables. These beans may be used in preparing a variety of dishes which usually appeal to the man of the family.

Here is a good basic recipe for preparing the dried limas: In the morning after breakfast, put the lima beans to soak in cold water. About an hour before dinner in the evening, drain, then cover with boiling water and cook slowly until they are tender. The average cooking time after soaking is about three-quarters of an hour. When you do not wish to cook the dried lima beans yourself, you may obtain them from your grocer already cooked and canned.

Lentils are a variety of lentils used for soups and purees. The two best known varieties are the pale yellow lentil of India and the reddish Egyptian. These latter were the ones which probably filled Esau's pot, which Biblical history tells us he exchanged for his birthright.

The lentil is sold in the dried form, and after boiling the outer skin may easily be removed by pressing the pulp through a sieve. Lentils contain a generous amount of nourishment, being about 50 per cent starch and about 30 per cent protein.

Here is a recipe for Lima Bean Loaf which you may find appealing when which should be popular with the whole family. Mash three cups of cooked lima beans through a colander, then pour a cupful of milk through the colander to take up the remaining bean pulp, leaving only the skins in the colander. To this puree, add two beaten eggs, two cups of Melba toast crumbs, a little celery and chopped parsley. Mix well, adding a little more milk if the mixture is too dry. Bake 20 minutes in an oiled baking dish. Serve hot dotted with butter.

Those who are well may try this some night when the budget is such that a main dish is needed which will be friendly to the family finances.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Mrs. F. M. asks: "In talking to a doctor one day, he explained to me that we grow old because of the deposit of calcium, as seen in hardening of the arteries. I know that we require calcium in order to live, but I wonder if there is some way to regulate the amount of calcium-bearing food eaten so that we would get just the right amount without overloading the deposit of the excess. Can you give me some information?"

ANSWER: There is considerable reason to believe that the healthy body is not affected by an excess of calcium in the food supply, as the extra calcium is simply eliminated. Whenever calcium accumulates in the body in the form of a deposit, as is the case in the process known as hardening of the arteries, the real reason for the accumulation is the presence of toxins which are irritating. Thus, when these toxins are flowing in the blood, the wall of the artery will lay down a deposit of lime or calcium in an attempt to protect itself against the irritation. Therefore, the best way to avoid the calcium deposits which are indication of oncoming age, is to keep the body as clean as possible. Other changes in the body which denote the onset of old age, occur in the duct-less glands. I find that the best way to retain youth is to have the patient use a sensible diet containing plenty of vegetables, to have him secure a reasonable amount of exercise, sufficient rest, and to encourage him to keep interested. When the loose feeling of age observed which keep the body free from auto-intoxication, such habits are the best prevention of the changes of old age. Incidentally, the same vegetables which help to preserve youth, provide an abundance of calcium; however this extra calcium will not be deposited in the arteries unless toxic irritation is allowed to develop. The entire question of old age and its prevention is a very interesting question, and undoubtedly, man still has a great deal to learn about the art of living to a hale and hearty old age. However, the calcium found in vegetables and fruits would, if anything, tend to defer premature ageing, not to encourage it.

Old Country Letter

By J. E. NORCROSS

LONDON, Eng. (By Mail)—On her recent visit to King's Lynn Queen Mary may or may not have noticed in the police court which is part of the old town hall some ancient handcuffs, one attached to the other by long heavy chains. They are fearsome-looking objects. King's Lynn does not advertise, but if it did, and if a competent publicity man had charge of the work, those handcuffs would be featured as the very "gyves" that were put on the wrists of Eugene Aram—as, indeed, they very well may have been.

J. E. Norcross

The reader will remember Tom Hood's poem, "The Dream of Eugene Aram". It tells how Eugene Aram, the master of a school in a village near King's Lynn, told one of his little pupils what he said was his dream of the previous night. It was that he had murdered a man. He described the gory deed with a wealth of detail but from time to time reminded his young hearer that "all this was nothing but a dream".

As a matter of fact it was really a confession of a crime he had committed months before far away in Knaresborough, in Yorkshire, and which was not discovered until about the very time that Aram was driven to find relief from the terrible memories which beset him by pouring out the whole story to the little boy.

The poem ends dramatically. Not until the last lines does the poet intimate that Aram's recital was of his dream but of very grim fact. The narration to his pupil is concluded without the least hint of the truth.

Then comes the bald statement that that very night

"Two eastern-faced men set out for Lynn.
And Eugene Aram walked between
With gyves upon his wrists."

I have seen the "gyves" in the King's Lynn police court and until there is strong evidence to the contrary I propose to believe that they were the very "gyves" that the

A Day in Canadian History

By FRED WILLIAMS

At the "masthead" (that is the first column on the editorial page) of the Kitchener Daily Record are four lines of historic interest today, February 9. They are:

Berliner Journal, founded Dec. 20, 1859.

Daily News, founded Feb. 9, 1878.

Daily Record, founded March 23, 1893.

Daily Telegraph, consolidated July 17, 1922.

Today being the 60th anniversary of the first issue of the Berlin Daily News, the history of the daily press in Berlin and Kitchener may be of value, and, thanks to Mr. William J. Motz, here it is:

Peter E. W. Moyer, a descendant of the Mennonite settlers of Waterloo county, established the Daily News February 9, 1878. For a considerable time one page of the four-page paper was printed in German since the majority of the population was German. Mr. Moyer published the paper for about 20 years. On March 23, 1893, W. J. Uttley, as head of a group of business men, published the first issue of the Berlin Daily Record. Soon after the Berlin Telegraph, a long established weekly, started a daily publication, but the town of Berlin had three daily papers. About 1900, a fourth daily, the Berlin Express, was established but lasted only a short time. Mr. Moyer, known all over Ontario as Peter Berlin News-Record.

Things remained unchanged until 1918 when a peculiar event in newspaper history took place, namely, the purchase of a daily paper by the owners of a weekly. This weekly, the Berliner Journal, later the Ontario Journal, was established in December, 1859, by Frederick Bittinger and John Motz. In 1890 some of these men left and but the town of Berlin had three daily papers. About October, 1918, when the paper was for sale, it was published in English weekly. About the same time, W. D. Euler, M.P., now minister of trade and commerce at Ottawa, purchased the Bittinger interest while W. J. Motz continued as manager and editor. One year later, Messrs. Motz and Euler bought a controlling interest in the Berlin News-Record from W. V. Uttley, founder of the Record, and adopted the present name, the Kitchener Daily Record. In 1922 the Kitchener Daily Telegraph was purchased, thus combining the original three daily papers into one.

UNITY

Editor, Bulletin: There has been a lot of talk recently about unity in the provincial political field of late parties in opposition to the present government, but the government does not appear to be making any progress, due no doubt to the fear that the various political parties could not work in harmony after years of political strife in opposing each other.

I believe that the majority of electors in the province, who have no faith in the theories of Social Credit and are anxious for a change of government, would support a unity movement if they were convinced it would be a success.

I, therefore, suggest that our elected representatives who are opposed to the present irresponsible government give us a practical demonstration of unity at the coming session of the legislature by all uniting under one leader and thus make their influence a real force in the house. They could caucus together and present a solid united front and thus be most effective in combatting the present government and show them up in their true light before the people of the province.

I would further suggest that our present time to time reminded be Mr. E. L. Gray who takes his seat in the legislature for the first time. He is a man of outstanding and recognized ability and, while there are other members with ability and legislative experience, there is an undercurrent of opinion throughout the country in opposition to those who for many years have been fighting our political battles, and they would prefer a man with no active political past.

The members thus united could formulate and present resolutions to the house assembly dealing with the major problems facing the province at this time which could form the basis of united policy at the next election.

I have been prompted to write this letter by the speech of the Unity member at Lethbridge, Dr. Campbell, who has announced that he will act in the house all by himself as an Independent and by so doing he will be as effective in opposition as a fly on a rhinoceros and arrow man against a rhinoceros.

Let them all join together under the leadership of Mr. Gray and show the people of Alberta what united action can accomplish.

Speed Of Bolts Is Timed At Lightning Laboratory In New York

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9.—Measurement of the speed of lightning, at 10,000 miles a second, was reported to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers here Tuesday by Karl. B. McEachron.

The speed was timed at the Empire State building in the heart of New York City. This world's tallest building is struck oftener than any other known place on earth, Mr. McEachron said. It acts like a needle to draw electricity.

EVERY FLASH

A motion picture camera, on top of a skyscraper half a mile from the Empire State, has caught every flash for three years. It is part of a lightning laboratory directed by Mr. McEachron for the General Electric Company.

New facts have been discovered. The most interesting, Mr. McEachron said, is that a tall building uses a tongue of fire to wheedle lightning. Frequently before lightning hits the Empire State a spindling flame leaps upward from the top of its 1,250-foot tower. It guides the lightning that always follows, crashing down to the tower.

SHAPE DECIDES

The scientific importance of this, said Mr. McEachron, is to prove that the shape of an object on earth will often decide the direction of the initial lightning stroke.

The first time a lightning camera catches a stroke hitting a tree, Mr. McEachron said, men will understand why it is dangerous to be underneath. Sparks and streamers of fire will undoubtedly be seen spreading over the ground at the base of the trunk, he predicted.

Can Take It

The Empire State building in New York, shown above, struck by lightning more often than any other known object on earth, has been used for experiments to determine the speed of lightning

CALGARY NEEDS NEW AIRDROME FOR T.C.A. LINE

CALGARY, Feb. 9—It appeared Tuesday if Calgary is to be a regular port of call on the new transCanada air service an expenditure of $150,704 by the city would be necessary.

Airport Supervisor Robert MacKay reported to city commissioners today a new airport would cost $250,143. He said the federal government was prepared to allow the city one-third of its present investment in airports, excluding buildings, and would contribute one-third of the cost of any new development.

The present municipal airport, federal airways officials report not up to government specifications.

C. B. Powell Dies

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Charles B. Powell, 79, businessman and sportsman, died here Tuesday. He was a former Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Ottawa, serving from 1898 to 1905. Mrs. Charles Fisher of Victoria, widow of Charles Fisher, former Speaker of the Alberta legislature, is a daughter.

It has been estimated that approximately half of the fishermen of the world are Japanese.

New Evidence On Milk Cost Is Requested

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—S. Hart Green, K.C., counsel for milk consumers, Tuesday urged at the Milk Control Board's price inquiry that the board summons dairy branch employees of the Manitoba and Dominion government to testify on cost of producing milk.

He desired evidence from John Crawford, superintendent of the provincial government's herds at Headingley jail, Brandon and Selkirk Asylums, dairy experts from the agricultural departments of the two governments and a dairy professor from University of Manitoba.

Editor Named To Utilities Board

HALIFAX, Feb. 9.—Premier A. L. Macdonald announced the appointment last night of George Farquhar, editor-in-chief of the Halifax Chronicle and former Winnipeg clergyman, to the Nova Scotia Public Utilities Board. The appointment, effective today, is for a 10-year term.

In 1919 Mr. Farquhar became Presbyterian minister at Hampton, N.B., and in 1923 assistant pastor of St. Stephen's church, Winnipeg.

After war service, during which he was attached to the Shorncliffe area, the 44th Battalion, C.E.F., and the Siberian expedition as chaplain, he became pastor of St. Andrew's, New Glasgow, N.S.

LEGAL ADVICE SUGGESTED IN DISALLOWANCE

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—A suggestion made by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, opposition leader, that the government hear legal arguments before reaching any decision on disallowance of Quebec's padlock law, was promised consideration in the house of commons Tuesday by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice.

So far as he was aware, Mr. Lapointe said, it had not been the custom to hear such argument but he would "look into the matter."

The question arose after Mr. Lapointe had corrected a statement in his address in the house last Friday. On that occasion he said the line in which the federal government could disallow the bill expired at the end of March.

Strike Ballot

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Feb. 9.—The executive of the Midland Miners' Federation, embracing 30,000 miners, announced Tuesday a ballot will be taken next month to decide if its membership favors a strike in the event non-union miners fail to join one of the federated unions. The committee set four days from March 7 to 9 for the ballot.

Control Of Coal Plan Defeated

LONDON, Feb. 9—A Labor amendment aimed at increasing the government's control of the coal mining industry of the United Kingdom was defeated Tuesday as the house of commons continued debate on the committee stage of the coal bill.

Vote on the amendment, introduced by Sir Stafford Cripps, was 241 to 122. The motion called for authorization by the coal commission, government regulatory body to be established under the bill, before a new coal mine could be worked.

Parts 1 and 2 of the bill were adopted by the house Thursday, Part 3, containing the marketing provisions, now is under discussion.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food sours! Digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get extra two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Insist on them. Refuse substitutes of rationed but have no rationed or scarcity increase. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 16-

Ulster Going to Polls in High Pitch of Excitement

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BELFAST, Feb. 9—Northern Ireland will vote today. Between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. the electors will record their verdict in the 31 contested seats of the Stormont house of commons, choosing from 84 nominated candidates.

Viscount Craigavon's Unionist (Conservative) government starts off with a clear advantage of seven through acclamations.

Nomination day gave the following preliminary party standing in the house of 52 members through lack of contests: Unionists 14; Nationalists 6; Labor 1.

Throughout the campaign the government has fought on one issue — an emphatic "no" to union with Eire.

Last night torchlight processions lit up the 15 divisions where Belfast voters will go to the polls. Formal meetings were abandoned. Flags waved and rival bands drowned each other in a bedlam of noise.

"Don't be cajoled," ran a device over the travelling platform of Sir Dawson Bates, home minister and the only member of Lord Craigavon's government who did not receive an acclamation.

"stern-faced men" clasped on Eugene Aram's wrists nearly 200 years ago. Aram was hanged in due course.

IT has long been believed that finger-prints are infallible as proofs of the identity of persons who have handled objects from which they are taken. An accused man, however, has demonstrated in a Croydon court that even finger-prints can be forged. He won his acquittal.

There is no question whether fingerprints are ever the same for two people. They have 6,000,000 of them at Scotland Yard and no two are alike. What the Croydon prisoner showed was that it was possible to put a man's fingerprints on objects he had never touched.

The police said that the defendant's finger-prints had been found on a bottle in a place that had been robbed. The accused, defending himself, then produced a mirror and pad. He pressed the pad on a constable's finger and then applied the pad to the mirror.

"There," he said, "is the fingerprint of the officer, and he has not touched the mirror."

He had experimented, he continued, with a mixture which could be spread on anything a person whose prints were wanted would be likely to touch. With this mixture anyone could "plant" prints at a "job" where the police could find them.

After this the jury found the police evidence insufficient to convict.

Health Insurance Is Declared Not Immediate Need

HALIFAX, Feb. 9.—Premier Angus Macdonald said Tuesday Nova Scotia was not prepared to enter health insurance. "It has been discussed by some," he told the Rowell commission, "but I do not think it is one of the crying needs of the hour. I do not feel it is a matter which has to be given immediate attention."

All Saints Play Is Awarded Highest Honors In Anglican Y. P. A. Dramatic Festival

Performance which drew warmest praise for Mr. R. V. Clark, who in his adjudication remarked that "the standard set by All the Cobbler' was not met by any other play," won for the presentation of All Saints' A.Y.P.A. in the Anglican Drama Festival, highest honors and the Bishop Burgett cup for the best play of the festival.

Winning play was presented on Monday evening in All Saints' hall, along with "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by Holy Trinity Society and "A Message from Khufu" by St. Faith's Y.P.A. Complete review of plays presented the first night of the performance appeared in Tuesday's issue of The Bulletin.

Concluding presentations given in Christ church parish hall on Tuesday evening were "Happy Journey" by St. Paul's branch, Leduc; "The Little Prison" by St. Faith's and "Light" by St. Peter's Society.

BEST ACTOR

As the success of "All the Cobbler," in the opinion of the adjudicator, was mainly due to the excellent portrayal of "Ali" by Ted Butler, he was awarded the prize for the best individual man's performance. Congratulations were also offered Miss Winnefred Marshall, director for a finished presentation.

Honors for the best girl's performance was won by Miss Bell Logen of St. Paul's branch, Leduc, for her excellent portrayal of the "simple, affectionate and righteous Ma Kerby" in the pantomime "Happy Journey."

Cup for individual performances was donated by Mas Winnefred Marshall.

A new but interesting experiment in plays, "Happy Journey," the motor trip of the Kerby family to visit Beulah (Margot Robertson), a married daughter, is different from the accustomed run of plays and offers a wide scope for amateur actors. With no setting required, a great part is left to the imagination of the audience, who must feel the jolts and see the advertisements, hot dog stands and other pictures of life on the highway as the observant members of the Kerby family pass remarks on them during their journey.

SOME FINE POINTS MISSED

Most obvious gestures, shifting of gears, slamming the doors and jolts from striking bad bumps had been studied by characters and portrayed with convincing reality, but the finer features however, had been missed and there was at times a certain awkwardness.

R. Robertson, in a typical Pa Kerby, slow of movement, calm and undisturbed, obviously under the wing of his wife with nothing much to say. Rose Marie Carol and Robert Roach, as Caroline and Arthur, the Kerby children, were typically inquisitive and curious, plying their parents with innumerable questions.

Director Laurie Joslin is to be congratulated on the excellent choice of cast and capable direction.

Difficulty in stage setting marred an otherwise excellent presentation of "The Little Prison" by St. Faith's Y.P.A. Taking place in an elevator, stranded between the eleventh and twelfth floors of a large office store, the clever play was inclined to be a little static, the small space not allowing much movement at all times characters were hidden from view.

WELL CAST

To choose between the members of the cast would be difficult as they all suited their parts to the finish. Hope, from Mrs. Ringdon (Edna Lamelle) the pampered rich lady, who was ready to offer all manner of money to be taken down, to the stubborn Daisy (Kay Owen) the elevator girl who was determined that the elevator should not move until it would be too late for her rival in love, Pearl (Mary Chesney) to meet the man of both their hearts.

Miss Ellison (Florence Carrington) was sufficiently quiet, plain and authoritative as the assistant general manager, who nevertheless was unable to wield her authority while stranded in the elevator and Miss Bundy (Rose Burden) gave a convincing performance as the observant reporter who was able to clear up the difficulty by knowing the latest news, that Daisy's and Pearl's boy-friend was only a fraud, out for the one with the most money.

Director Art Clough deserves a great deal of credit for the realism which characters achieved in their roles.

TOO MELODRAMATIC

Final play of the evening, "Light," by St. Peter's was a little too melodramatic to be convincing and thus required a great deal of heavy acting from characters. The story concerned a rich capitalist, Barker, played by Donald Arnett, owner of the light company which refused to supply light to the mines until strikers would return to work at starvation wage.

Disease, sickness and even death would not open his eyes to his own selfishness until the serious injury to his beloved daughter Judy (Phyllis Stadden) in a fall due to the lack of light made him realize just what he was doing and cause him to put on the lights and the men back to work at former wages.

Craig Moon was excellent in the part of Johnson, the mining foreman and from the tone of his voice to the flashing of his eyes gave his role the proper emotional significance. Peggy Gutteridge as Mrs. O'Connor, whose baby had died, portrayed a difficult character role with fine distinction and Leigh Brown, in the role of Dr. Brooks, gave a fine performance.

Direction was in the hands of Mr. Val Carey and Mrs. Gutteridge who are to be congratulated on their handling of a difficult play.

Mr. Donald Sime, president of the Diocesan Council, was chairman for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McNabb have as their guest for a few days, Mr. McNabb's sister, Mrs. N. A. Nelson of Calgary.

MRS. WILLIAM ABERHART.

wife of the Hon. William Aberhart, Premier of Alberta, who with the wives of the cabinet ministers will be receiving in the Speaker's chambers following the formal opening of the legislative session on Thursday afternoon. One of the most attractive of the many affairs planned upon the occasion, the reception will be held immediately after the ceremonies of the afternoon.

Will Receive After Opening Of House

the social round . . . . .

WE'VE always been afraid to admit that we felt much safer with our feet on solid ground than on an airplane, but now Mrs. George Black, Member of Parliament for the Yukon. Perhaps the old story about the man who was so important he had to sleep with a shovel and no one would say anything," has a certain awkwardness.

R. Robertson, in a typical Pa Kerby, slow of movement, calm and undisturbed, obviously under the wing of his wife with nothing much to say. Women Present At Dairy Meet Are Tea Guests

Bright red hat-box reposing on a little table in the private drawing room of the Macdonald hotel on Tuesday afternoon at a happy tea-time meeting of the wives and daughters of the delegates attending the Alberta Dairymen's convention, became the centre of much interest and excitement during the afternoon as Miss Jean Hobson of the T. Eaton Co. Western, Ltd., lifted one by one, dainty pieces of women's apparel, accessories and flashing jewelry for the inspection of her charmed guests.

THESE ARE NEW

There were Parisand bags and gloves, bright handkerchiefs for sport, as well as dressy, day-time 'kerchiefs with maps of the world, or mountain scenes and rodeo shows pictured on them silken finish, huge dinner rings that are to be worn with man-tailored suits this year, bright scarfs and scarfs, old gold bracelets and hol so many things to delight the hearts of feminine Alberta.

Of course the accessories from the hat-box were shown in conjunction with the lovely things that a number of attractive models displayed through the room as Miss Hobson chatted gaily on this and that in the world of fashion.

IN STEP WITH FASHION

Stepping as from fashion plates, the models walked gracefully about the room, and showed lovely day-time frocks, street clothes and romantic dancing frocks that are brightening the departments in the T. Eaton Co. store these late winter days.

For the days that carry with them a promise of spring but are not really warm and balmy you'll appreciate one of the lovely knitted suits that were shown. One in Bermuda coral held the spotlight of interest and created much stir as were others in lovely berry shades, raspberry and a robin red. They've got buttons down the back, some of them, wooden bracelets and other little gadgets.

PLACE IN THE SUN

Box swagger coats will find a place in the fashion sun of Edmonton this year, that can be sure. Tight snug collars, five or six buttons from the neck down and flaring, form a most suitable garb for spring time chilly days and cool summer evenings.

Suit yourself . . . in grey or navy or black this year, but be sure they're man-tailored. One-button. They're made with stunning little pleats at the side instead of in front or at the back, and they're very very plain. You'll want up-turned sailor hats (Lady Biltmore) hats with these, matching-in-tone gloves and a pair of shiny, berries at the shoulder.

AND BOLEROS

"Where did all the boleros come from?" one milliner has asked. While we don't know, we know where they'll be. On the day-time dresses, in sweaters. Polka dots are good we learned yesterday, and dark almost navy with a bright plaid jacket and you'll want it in black, as you are bound to, you'll want your sleeves in dramatic fashion.

"She walks in beauty on summer nights" with apologies to Byron in her lightest of peacock blue dancing frock with wide swaying skirts and dainty shirred jacket. Nurse Cavell's dress is a fitting juliet cap and of course she'll be the belle of the ball.

For colors, try pink with navy or better still, black, or yellow with black. Or you may be clutching Parisand mixture of London tan and brown and you cannot go wrong.

TEA-PARTY

Following the interesting little show, tea was served at little tables, daintily set in silver and crystal with rose and white carnations.

More visitors to Alberta's capital for the convention include Mrs. Chisholm of Toronto, Mrs. D. Brown of Coronation; Mrs. Montalnetti, Bluffton; Mrs. Dezeeuw, Bluffton; Mrs. E. Peterson, Mrs. D. Smith, Mrs. A. N. MacDonald, all of Calgary.

Ideal For That Five O'clock Appointment

As the sun that glistens on the stark, denuded trees in the Bois de Boulogne becomes a little warmer, a little brighter, Madame steps forth in a costume suit. It fills her needs of the moment, is sure to be just as useful during balmy spring weeks when the giant trees are covered with new green leaves and the air is filled with the odor of creamy white narcissus. This model is of lightweight black lainage. It includes a slim dress, trimmed at neckline and waist with steel nailhead embroidery in chiffon, a seven-eighths coat, finished with bands of shiny black astrakhan to match dress pockets and muff.

Fort Edmonton I.O.D.E. Unit Raises $1,114 For Charitable Work During Past Season

FORT EDMONTON chapter of the I.O.D.E. holding their annual business meeting and election of executive officers for the coming year, one evening this week in the Macdonald hotel, named Mrs. A. E. Anderson to supervise the many activities of the chapter in the capacity of regent for 1938.

Realized during the past year was the sum of $1,114.02 which was dispersed through the various channels of the chapter, financial reports revealed.

Encouraging and comprehensive reports covering the work of the chapter were read by the different conveners.

BLIND WORK

Mrs. R. J. S. Wright reported the work of the chapter in the help of the blind. Visiting the blind in their homes has only been one task carried on through the months. Assistance has been given them in the preparation and sale of handicraft of the blind at the Exhibition and at the Hudson's Bay Co. store, and during the annual campaign of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Visiting and assisting ex-servicemen has demanded much time and work by members, Mrs. C. W. Boon reported. Patients among the ex-servicemen have been given extra comforts, reading material and have been taken on many pleasant outings whenever possible, she stated.

Mrs. A. McCulloch reviewed briefly how the chapter had raised its money to carry on its funds during the year.

EDUCATION

"Generous contributions have been made to bursary and scholarship funds, prizes have been given in city high schools and school books have been supplied where necessary," stated Miss Isabel Hotson, educational convener. Adopting and outfitting a school near Falher has been one of the major accomplishments, she further reported.

Mrs. Stonehouse in her report outlined briefly the work of the council and family welfare committee and some of the interesting items she mentioned were, the assistance given in the tag day for the child welfare camp, the entertainment of the camp children at two parties, and at a theatre party and Christmas party.

A family in need benefited greatly from the work of the committee, Mrs. Stonehouse reported, and clothing valued at $75.00 has been sent out of the city to farm folks. Donations have been made, she said to the Christmas cheer fund and to the maternity assistance fund.

ECHOES REPORT

Mrs. W. A. de Graves submitted her report for "Echoes", telling that life-memberships had been given to Mrs. R. C. Marshall and to Mrs. T. J. Johnstone during the year.

"X-RAY" IS TOPIC OF LECTURE TO DENTAL NURSES

Adjourning to one of the cosy clubrooms downstairs, members of Dental Nurses' Graduates' Association were greatly interested after their dinner meeting in the Corona hotel one evening last week when Dr. J. G. Roberts, lecturer in Radiology at the University Dental School, gave an informative address on "X-ray."

He traced the progress made in this science from the time of the discovery by William Roentgen of the peculiar properties of the unknown ray, to the present day, and sketched the technique necessary for the dental assistant to master in order to take and develop good pictures.

Mrs. A. Porter Dodds, the president, occupied the chair, others present including Mrs. McAskile, Mrs. Dunn, Miss Charlotte Steele, Miss Eileen Robinson, Miss K. Norrington, Miss Jean McIntyre, Miss Dorothy Cleal, Miss Clara Risacher, Miss Gladys Young, Miss Gleno Malloy, Miss Mildred Schultz, Miss Gertrude O'Neill, Miss Peggy Kylling-dahl and Miss Isabel Stewart.

Why Use A "Sissy" Laxative?

Chronic constipation has to do with the colon or large intestine. Unless the large bowel is thoroughly emptied from time to time you become victim of acute or chronic constipation and poisoning of the system which results in colitis or other serious disease.

Mild or "sissy" laxatives merely cause a movement of the bowels without effecting a thorough cleaning out of the colon or large bowel. For this reason you are misled into thinking that you are doing all you can to overcome a constipated and poisoned condition of the system.

Those who know Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills appreciate the value of a real medicine which not only effects a thorough cleaning of the colon or large bowel but also arouses the liver and kidneys to activity in filtering poisons from the blood.

Once you have proven the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will never return to the use of "sissy" laxatives. Used regularly once a week this medicine ensures pure blood and freedom from constipation and the pains, aches and serious diseases which accompany it.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

AN AGITATE observer asserts that one of the things that is going to militate against the success of the President's grandiose housing project is the impermanence of modern marriage. Nowadays virtually every marriage license has a divorce coupon attached, and nobody who does not know how soon they are going to use their return ticket are not sold on the idea of scrimping and saving to put money into a home that they may wreck before they ever get it paid for.

In the good old times when marriage was an until-death-do-us-part contract the holy estate and one's estate were synonymous. Then the dream of every bride and groom was to own their own little nine-sweetheted cottage in which they expected to settle down for the remainder of their lives, rearing their children, mowing their own lawns and sweating their monthly installments due the building and loan association.

But, alas, that ideal of connubial bliss has been scrapped along with other sentimental customs of yesteryear. Here is one school of thought: Owning your own home is no longer regarded as the badge of respectability. It is the mark of the sucker. Going in debt for something that you may not want next year. Besides, it ties you down. And the last thing the great majority of young people desire is to be doomed to some place where they have to stay put. They want to be free to roam from apartment house to apartment house, from the suburbs to a penthouse, and the nearest thing to a permanent home that they crave is a trailer.

Also, in case of divorce, for you never can tell when you are going to lose your taste for your husband or wife, owning a home is a hindrance. It is so much easier to part if all one has to do is to throw a few belongings in a suitcase and leave the key to the flat at the office. But it's a million times less trouble than if there is a house for which both have slaved and sacrificed, and the Duncan Phyfe furniture that Aunt Jane left them in her will. Many a woman has stuck to an unsympathetic husband instead of going back to mother because she couldn't bear to leave the kitchen that she had just had done over in green enamel.

As to the economic side of the question, there is the school of thought: Those who favor it say that for a young couple to go in debt for a home inculcates thrift in them. It forces them to save for they will deny themselves many indulgences rather than lose what they have put in their house. Likewise they have a tangible asset. They can see where they put their money. It hasn't gone with the wind, as it so often does when it is invested in stocks. And they always have collateral that they can borrow on if need be.

But again, those who prefer letting George hold the bag and pay the taxes claim that the man who buys a house on time sells himself into slavery; that it's easier and cheaper to let the landlord wrangle with plumbers and repairmen than it is to do it yourself; that there is a lot more fun to be got out of your salary by spending it on whoopee than there is in paying it on the mortgage. So there you are and you can literally pay your money and take your choice.

But of the moral advantage of owning your own home, there can be no doubt. It makes better citizens of men and women because it makes them feel that they have a real ownership in their country. It gives them a sense of responsibility that the nomad never has. It steadies and keeps them from running off after false gods. For it is one thing to jeopardize somebody else's property and quite another thing to jeopardize your own.

Best of all, it gives to children the inestimable advantage of being brought up in a permanent home. A child who spends its life from the time it is born in apartment houses, moving to the day it is buried from an undertaking parlor, in migrating from one apartment to another, without ever staying in one long enough to remember its address, can never have any real love of home or any sentimental attachment. It feel that it is anything except a place to stop in while it is getting ready to go somewhere else. It never has a chance to strike down its roots into the soil and get that feeling about home which is one of the most beneficient influences in life.

And so I am all for homes, no matter what they cost. Maybe if there were more young people working together for their homes there would be fewer of them parting.

Blemished Skins From A Toxic Blood Stream

By ALICIA HART

Experts agree that the beauty of your skin depends on the purity and richness of your blood and just how perfectly it circulates.

"If the blood stream is toxic, your skin will be dull, blotched and sallow," says Benjamin Gayelord Hauser, important authority on the subject of food as related to beauty.

"If your blood is pale with anemia, your skin will be pale. You'll need regulation of iron, your skin becomes waxy, mottled or bluish. When your blood dances through your system, then your color is fresh and vivid," Mr. Hauser continues in an interview "Eating Better in Bed and Grow Beautiful".

In other words, unless your doctor objects, you ought to do regularly some kind of exercise which sends your blood vigorously instead of lazily through your veins.

You can walk a mile a day, for instance, striding along rapidly, holding your stomach in and your chest high and breathing deeply. And if you cannot manage a special walk-for-beauty, you can at least study your habits at street cars every time you have to go a short distance.

You can do your reducing exercises or your limbering and stretching routines a little more rapidly—and with much more fun, to stimulate sluggish circulation, bring color to your cheeks.

Dr. Barton said that sound health is the foundation of true beauty. You cannot have shiny hair, smooth skin and a vigorous, youthful body if you do not eat your vegetables and salads like a good little girl, get enough sleep, do some kind of exercise regularly. You may be tired of hearing it, but it's still true that no amount of cosmetics, even the most costly, can make up for faulty diet, lack of sleep and exercise.

Your Children

BY DR. R. ROBERTS BARTON

Mothers of sixteen-year-old boys have their hands full. If the letters they write to me are any indication. And I believe they are.

Day after day I hear from mothers who are upset over the dodges and evasions of adolescent song.

A typical note asks, for the part: "He won't study at home and I can't get him to do a thing around the house. All he wants to do is to lie around and read, go to the movies, and loaf. I have to drag him out of bed in the morning to get him to school on time."

AT SENSITIVE AGE

"Everyone told me that when he got to this age he would be very fussy about his clothes, but instead he certainly is careless in his appearance—which even to a mother is pretty bad."

Of course, this isn't an easy time for a mother to go through, but she should remember that it isn't an easy time for the boy either. Right now he is at the most sensitive age of his life. It is the time when he begins to feel that he is no longer a child, and yet he is in no sense—except size—an adult. He is too old for childish play, and the older he gets the less he knows that he is too young for them to tolerate.

His needs of sleep and astounding appetite are both normal—and a mother should see that he gets plenty of both sleep and nourishing food.

As for his carelessness about his personal appearance, his lack of interest in anything worthwhile—that can perhaps be overcome, if a mother goes at the task in the right way.

If she wants him to take an interest in the way he dresses, she should be careful not to tease him about any girl — or let his father "josh" him about being a dude.

FEAR TEASING

Often a boy scorns cleanliness and neatness just for fear he will be teased.

And as for arousing his interest in something besides movies—often a young man who is a member of the family can help her in that. Boys love the companionship of young men who treat them as equals, a fact that most boys' organizations recognize and use.

Whatever she does, a mother shouldn't believe that her son will always be dodgers because he happens to be so at sixteen. That is just a period that most healthy boys go through, before they get the ambition and energy that belongs to manhood.

More Women Cops Sought In Britain

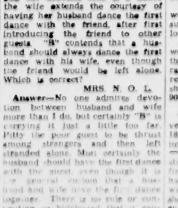

LONDON, Feb. 9.—A country-wide campaign for more women police has been launched by Great Britain's feminine army.

Leaders of the campaign assert women police should undertake such duties as searching women's lodgings.

In the metropolitan area, police-women have been given recognition the establishment figure has been raised to 142. A woman constable receives a minimum salary of 96 shillings ($24) weekly; a sergeant 90 shillings ($22.50).

The "zipper" fastener was invented by Whitcomb Judson in 1893, but Gideon Sundback later improved and patented it.

What To Do

Kindly settle this question for me. "A" contends that if a wife has an out-of-town guest whom she and her husband take to a dance the wife attends the courtesy of having her husband dance the first with this friend, after first introducing the friend to other guests. "B" contends that a husband should always ask the guest to dance with his wife, even though the friend would be left alone. Which is correct?

MRS. N. O. L.

Answer—No one admires devotion between husband and wife more than I do, but certainly "B" is carrying it just a little too far. Such fidelity makes a husband look among strangers and then left stranded alone. Most certainly the husband should have the first dance with the most even though it is a social custom that a husband and wife never be first dance together. There is no rule or convention or politeness that requires a husband to dance with his wife at all. She will not object to sitting alone as most other couples with husband and wife dance together.

McCAULEY

Holding interest for residents in McCauley district and their friends is the attractive program of events scheduled for performance this week in the McCauley Community hall. On Wednesday afternoon a court whist party will be held, and for the affair Mrs. Petrie is supervising details.

A public speaking contest in the junior section is planned for Thursday evening under the convenership of Mr. A. C. Russell.

Young people are planning a novelty St. Valentine's dance in the hall for Friday evening, commencing at nine o'clock and on Saturday evening the usual bingo party will be held.

Mid-February parties will include the attractive Valentine dance for which members of the Club Victorian discussed plans at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Myra Murdock recently. Arranged to be held in the Masonic Temple on the evening of Saturday, February 19, the affair is under the joint convenership of Mrs. M. Falconer and Mrs. I. Baker.

According To Culbertson

BY ELY CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Before you look at the hand enclosed I want to ward off your telling me how crazy I was to reach the contract I did. As ailin for the psyche bid that turned out so fortunately for my team I must mention that the hand occured in a team-of-four match in which I knew we were behind. This was a chance either to win or be defeated more decisively. As between these two alternatives I chose the former."

"West led the rubbid suit, the eight of clubs. East played the king and I declared the contract. Then I rattled off a few heart tricks, discarding four diamonds from my own hand. East, greatly impressed by my original two spade response, virtually broke his neck to hang on to ten cards in the suit headed by the club suit. I then cashed the queen and jack of clubs and the ace of diamonds. With one club left to play, this situation developed:

"When I played the club nine West was squeezed. He had to keep the diamond king, hence dropped his spade jack. I let dummy's diamond go and led the nine of spades. West's king was smothered and my spade queen brought in the thirteenth beautiful trick. Even when the smoke of battle had cleared away and the compounding had paid off, they still were maintaining: "Why, you just couldn't make it!" Maybe I couldn't not have, except for my psychic bid of two spades which bewildered the defenders as to the proper holding.

Undoubtedly the psychic bid made matters easier for the declarer. If the club had not been opened and, later, if East had not so accommodatingly discarded his clubs, only a double club finesse against the king and the ten could have brought about the same success situation actually reached.

South can be congratulated for his play, but at the same time I feel I should warn him to make the proper obeisance to Lady Luck. She certainly was nice to him in her placing of the outstanding honors.

Walter Litwin, Redwater district resident, will spend the next 40 days in Fort Saskatchewan unless he pays $125 due on a court order issued under the provisions of the Alimony Order Enforcement act.

The initial order was made on June 10 last and subsequent to that order Litwin was summoned to appear in district court to show cause why he should not be committtd for non-observance of the order. He failed to appear on that occasion and was brought to court Wednesday morning.

He appeared before His Honor Judge J. L. Crawford, who, not being satisfied with his excuse for non-payment of the amount ordered, committed him to jail for 40 days. If payment is made before the expiry of the term he will be released from custody.

IMPERIAL OIL DEFENDANT IN COURT ACTIONS

Two damage actions in which the Imperial Oil Co., Limited is named as defendant were filed in the court house Wednesday morning. Both actions arise out of injuries received in automobile accidents in which company servants are alleged to have been concerned.

Damages totalling approximately $15,000 are sought by Arthur G. Lunan, Ester Lunan, Albert Lunan and Alva Lunan, all of Fort Saskatchewan, for injuries received when their car was struck by an Imperial Oil truck on the Fort Saskatchewan highway at a point six miles east of the Oliver Mental Institute.

The accident took place on November 15 last and in the statement of claim it is alleged it was caused by the negligence of the defendant's servant.

The other action was brought by William Barth, Stony Plain mechanic, who is seeking $1,958 damages for injuries received when receiving delivery of distillate from a company servant at his garage. It is alleged that J. M. Lamb, driver of the truck from which the plaintiff was hurled when brakes were applied too sharply, was in the employ of, or had been requested by the defendant company to deliver the distillate.

WILKINS HERE FOR REPAIRS TO BIG PLANE

snow between the time we had inspected the runway and the time we took off," he said. "We did not know the propellor had been damaged until we returned.

Sunday morning, when the plane was being warmed up at Aklavik, preparatory to a take-off, the motor carrying the propellor which had been damaged seized and it was discovered that the main bearing had burned out. Arrangements were made at once for Sir Hubert to come to Edmonton with Pilot McMullen who arrived there that day on a regular mail run.

"There was no time to dismantle the motor," explained Sir Hubert, "so I came in with the propellor. I will not know what we are going to do until later in the day."

IS WELCOMED

Sir Hubert was met at the airport by W. Leigh Brintnell, of Mackenzie Air Service, W. R. "Wop" May of Canadian Airways, T. J. Reilly and George W. Beaton of the post office department; newsmen and photographers also greeted him.

Dressed in typical Arctic costume of mukluks and a parka of reindeer hide, he chatted briefly with newsmen and then, without waiting to change into "civilized" clothes, went straight to the Mackenzie Air Service offices in the Macdonald hotel where he conferred with Mr. Brintnell about the problem of getting repairs for his ship.

NEW MOTOR

It is probable that a new motor will be brought from Montreal and shipped north.

Sir Hubert still expects that the Russians will be found.

"Provided they landed safely it is probable they are still alive," he said confidently. "They will be able to travel and kill seals for food."

Sir Hubert complimented Mr. Reilly of the post office department, on the mail service. "We have received our mail regularly and the service has been very fine," he said.

Although the weather has been mild this winter it was 51 below zero when they left Aklavik Monday morning, Sir Hubert reported.

He has little hope of returning to the north in time to make a flight by moonlight on February 15, but later in the month there will be enough sunlight to enable them to make four or five more flights, he said.

1937 REPORT OF SUN LIFE SHOWS GAINS

MONTREAL, Feb. 9—The Sun Life of Canada—the Dominion's largest life insurance company—issued over two hundred and fifty million dollars of new paid-for life assurance during 1937. The total assurances in force held by more than a million policy-holders now exceeds two billion eight hundred and ninety million dollars, an increase during the year of one hundred and twenty millions. Marked increases in both new business and assurances in force were recorded in Canada, United States and Great Britain. The assets of the Company were increased by more than fifty-three million dollars during 1937, bringing the present total to more than eight hundred and thirty-one million dollars, the highest in the history of the company.

The 1937 statement released here at the sixty-seventh annual meeting by Arthur B. Wood, president and managing director, discloses the wide scope of the company's operations, which practically encircle the globe.

Mr. Wood reviewed the financial statement at some length, emphasizing the purpose of life insurance whereby millions of policyholders are enabled to provide financial security for their dependents. In the course of his remarks he lauded the Canadian government for its determination to maintain the Dominion's credit and expressed the belief that the appointment of the Rowell Commission was a practical step towards solution of some of Canada's most pressing financial problems.

In Canada the year just closed was one of great industrial and commercial activity, its export and import trade contributing largely to the marked progress of the Dominion. The recovery movement reached its peak in September and was thereafter followed by a slight decline.

However business conditions continue to be healthy, and Great Britain's trade and business remain at a consistently high level.

WILL EXPAND FEED POLICY

Expansion of the feed policy as far as possible to take care of the shortage reported in the Hanna area, will be carried out immediately, it was announced on Wednesday by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture.

The shortage arose over a violent storm.

"Since the storm struck we have been in touch with the situation and as a result we have decided to open up the policy as far as possible to take care of the situation.

"The area is divided into six districts with provincial representatives in each and it is hoped this will take care of the situation."

City Commissioners Wednesday considered estimates for the civic relief, land and fire departments, as well as the commissioners' and city clerk's branches. After the budget has been revised by commissioners it will be submitted to council for consideration and ratification.

Butter, Cheese Production Reach New High, Report

Gain Made Despite Shortage of Feed In Many Sections

J. E. Sweeney, Provincial Dairy Commissioner, Addresses Annual Convention of Alberta Dairymen's Association on Industry

Despite a shortage of feed in many sections of the province Alberta's creamery butter production during 1937 reached an all time high. Cheese production showed a 27 per cent increase over 1936. The total value of all dairy products increased from $15,505,800 to $17,137,900, J. E. Sweeney, Alberta dairy commissioner, disclosed in his address at the general meeting of the Alberta Dairymen's Association held Tuesday evening at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr. Sweeney called attention to a radical change in methods of farming pursued by many farmers in northern and central Alberta where there has been a considerable increase in the production of legumes for feeding purposes.

The improvement in dairy product prices has stimulated production and the returns to the producers have gradually returned to normal level, he said. The average price of butter during 1937 was 24.1 cents compared with 21.6 in 1936.

Throughout Alberta 96 creameries were in operation during the year with an average output of 375 pounds. This average output is below the desired volume for economical operation, Mr. Sweeney stated, but many of the smaller creameries provide market facilities in the pioneer districts and it is expected that production will increase in these areas.

A gradual increase in the quality of cream delivered to creameries has been noted during 1937, and further efforts are being made to educate producers to market sweet cream and obtain the premiums guaranteed under the Dairymen's Act and Regulations.

The percentage of first grade butter remained at practically the same figure as 1936, 87.04 per cent of all creamery butter made in this province, grading in the first class. Mr. Sweeney stated it was most encouraging to report that there was an increase of 2.4 per cent in

Police Court

Convicted on a charge of stealing a pair of socks, three bottles of rubbing alcohol, a package of soap and a package of cough candies from a local department store, Philip Morrison was sentenced to serve two and one-half months in Fort Saskatchewan jail by Magistrate A. H. Gibson in police court Wednesday.

"I bought those socks from a fellow I met on the street," claimed Morrison.

"I saw him picking them up," countered Special Investigator Sam Sladen.

Wigtownshire Curlers Meet In Feature Game Here

Skipped by the Rt. Hon., the Earl of Stair, four natives of Wigtownshire, Scotland, who are with the party of touring Scottish curlers here played a feature game at the Strathcona Club Wednesday morning when they took an 8-4 win over a rink of Edmonton ladies rotten together by Charlie Hunter of Jasper, himself a former native of Newton Stewart, Wigtownshire. This novelty feature was arranged at 8:30 a.m., since the crowded program of the Scots did not allow any other time for a friendly game with Edmonton lady curlers.

The Inquiring Reporter

If this is winter, do you think that spring can be far behind?

As the Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter hurried along the highways and byways on his way to his daily stint, he thought of the old saying, "if winter comes can spring be far behind?" so, having a few thoughts on the winter with its 32 degrees below zero at the moment, he decided to find out what a few others thought about it.

Here are some replies:

BERT WILLIAMS, engaged in chopping ice and snow from the streets: I don't know how far away spring may be, but I sure hope it's just around the corner. This 30 below stuff isn't any good for anybody and the sooner it beats it the better I'll be satisfied. There is only one redeeming feature and that is you can keep warm at this job.

JACK GOLDIE, former British navy: Well, I don't know, this isn't too bad. While the mercury is low enough, you don't feel it if there isn't any wind. But, get out on the North Sea in a driving wind and flying salt water and the mercury doesn't need to be anywhere near zero to feel far worse than it is here.

FRANK WITHERS, clerk: I happen to live a short distance from the car line—several blocks—and believe you me, it is no pleasure in this weather to hike for a car, and then perhaps just miss it and wait 15 minutes for the next. I am all for bringing on spring as quickly as possible.

JANE SMITH, student: I don't mind the cold so much, but I want to see the leaves on the trees and the flowers in the gardens and to hear the birds singing and to go swimming and play golf and tennis and to do some hiking and generally enjoy the out-of-doors which you cannot do in the winter.

Man Loses Purse: Will Be Grateful For Its Return

About 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday a city resident lost his purse in the vicinity of the Star cafe. The purse contained all the money he had and he will be deeply grateful to the finder returning it to him. The finder can return it to him through The Bulletin.

The purse was made of canvas, with a flap-type of cover. There was a sum of money in it as well as some promissory notes and other correspondence.

So, Good Samaritan, here is your chance to do a good turn: deliver the purse when you find it to the owner, through The Bulletin.

PREPARATIONS ARE ADVANCED FOR SESSION

Social Credit Members Continue Caucus At Buildings Wednesday

As Social Credit members of the legislature continued their caucus at the legislative buildings on Wednesday, discussing the general legislative program to be dealt with at the session opening on Thursday, preparations were well advanced for the opening of the house.

A capacity gallery will witness the opening ceremonies, which will contain color and will be brilliant in every respect.

The opening ceremony will be carried out by His Honor Lieut.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, who will officiate at his first regular session, although he has opened two special sessions.

WEAR UNIFORM

He will wear his Windsor uniform and will be attended by a retinue of distinguished military officers including Brigadier G. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., Croix de Guerre, officer commanding Military District No. 13.

Formal opening ceremonies will be brief, conforming to custom, with the introduction of the two new members, E. L. Gray, Alberta Liberal leader and Dr. Peter Campbell, Unity, Lethbridge.

ADJOURN TO FRIDAY

The entire opening ceremony will be completed within half an hour and the house will adjourn until 3 p.m. Friday when James Hartley, M.L.A. for Macleod will move the resolution adopting the Speech from the Throne, and William Masson, Wainwright, will second the motion. The house will then adjourn until 3 p.m. on Monday when the debate on the Speech will commence in earnest.

Brothers Reunited In Edmonton After Lapse Of 39 Years

From printer's "devil" to publisher is the proud boast of Charles F. Sheers, editor and publisher of the Akeley Herald-Tribune, Akeley, Minnesota, who arrived in Edmonton Wednesday to meet his brother, John, Ardrossan farmer, whom he hasn't seen for 39 years.

Veteran member of the International Typographical Union, Mr. Sheers inspected The Bulletin plant before leaving with his brother for Ardrossan, where he will visit with relations for a few days before continuing his holiday tour to Los Angeles. Charlie calls this his "Golden Jubilee trip" to celebrate more than 50 years in the newspaper business.

Born in Chicago on July 25, 1870, Charlie Sheers started his career as a printer on the Sycamore True Republican, Sycamore, Ill., in 1892. "We started work pretty young in those days," he explained to a Bulletin reporter.

FULL-FLEDGED PRINTER

In 1896 he went to the Chicago Daily News, then to Fargo, N.D., in 1887, to join the International Typographical Union. "I was then officially launched on my career as a fully-fledged printer and could pick from the best of them," the veteran reminisced.

The Winnipeg Free Press gave him his first work as a journeyman printer for three months in 1887. "It was a different city in those days, with a population of only 10,000. Boy, but has it grown!" he said today.

Suffering from asthma, he then started a tour up and down the country trying to find a climate which would effect a cure. From Chicago to San Francisco, Portland and Seattle he worked as a travelling printer, settling type for more than 100 newspapers until he found his Mecca—Akeley, Minnesota.

LIKES MINNESOTA

"I'm not an official Chamber of Commerce delegate, but you can tell 'em from me that if they want to get rid of their asthma they should go to Minnesota. It certainly worked with me," Charlie declared, explaining that Akeley is 2,000 feet above sea level and a fine place for natural treatment of asthma.

The newspaperman has made a success of things in his home town. Besides publishing his paper, he is a candidate for the Minnesota State Senate and will be back in time for the June primaries.

"I've travelled a long and interesting trail, and right now I'm hankering to do it all over again," Charlie confided to the reporter. "It sounds silly, I guess, but what I'm planning to do on this trip is to get a days work on newspapers in the cities I visit. Just for old time's sake, you understand. I'm not going to try and take any work away from anyone—as a matter of fact I'd work for nothing. But I like to keep my hand in, and in the cities where it's possible I'll work for a day on a paper."

Charlie is renewing a few old acquaintances on this trip, but there are only a few of the "old boys" left. In Winnipeg, for instance, he saw O. H. Pollard, who is now running a job printing outfit in the Free Press building. "I knew him when I was in my teens," he said.

DEMOCRACY IS PUBLIC VOICE BYRNE STATES

Says Legislators Should Truly Represent the People

Democracy's success depends upon representatives truly representing the people who send them to parliament or the legislature, L. D. Byrne, provincial credit commissioner, told the study class on Social Dynamics Tuesday evening in Memorial Hall.

The lecturer was explaining the mechanism of legislative government in his address. Personal responsibility on the part of the elected representative to his constituents, the method of specifying results that are desired from government, the meaning of the word, and related legislative matters, were reviewed.

PASSAGE QUESTIONED

Mr. Byrne questioned a passage in John Stuart Mill dealing with representative government in which the man whom Gladstone named "the saint of rationalism" suggested that democracy's success depended upon people having full wisdom to elect representatives wiser than themselves.

If people did this the lecturer submitted, it would be an open question if they did not possess those wisdom than their representatives.

Pointing out that the perversion of democracy has resulted in a large degree from a divorce between the people's wishes and their representative's will, Mr. Byrne said that Mill's theory gave only representation, but delegation of authority.

Several instances were cited by the lecturer to show how representatives fail to represent the people. Mr. Byrne indicated that later lectures on the course will be devoted to developing certain aspects of this subject in greater detail.

Fred Kennedy, when I first worked on the Free Press," Charlie recalled. "But most of the others have gone long since."

While on the Chicago News, Charlie was honored with the duty of setting type for an original manuscript written by Eugene Field, noted newspaper columnist and poet.

"They were just starting to use linotype machines in Chicago then. That was in 1893, and the boys just laughed and said they wouldn't work right. But they did, and look what they're doing with them today! Why, they're almost human the way they set type. It was all hand-set in my early days."

And with this remark Charlie left to join his brother, whom he

MERCURY HITS LOW MARK FOR WINTER HERE

Temperature Finally Manages To Get Way Down At Last

Proving that success will reward conscientious effort, Edmonton's temperature finally managed to get down to the low for the winter at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, when the mercury was at 32 below, equalling the mark of January 29, when the winter's record was hung up.

The red line refused to linger at the low mark, however, and by 9 a.m. had popped back to 30 below. At that time the forecast for the city was again the same monotonous "continued cold."

During Tuesday the thermometer stayed well under the zero line, the highest reading for the day being 15 below, registered from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Mayo proved to be the coldest spot in the far north early Wednesday, the mercury there shrinking down to the 52 below mark, while Dawson gave it a good race to enter a 50 below reading. Fort Smith and Fort Norman were the next two in line, having readings of 46 below and 44 below, respectively, while Aklavik was higher at 41 below and Fort Simpson was right on the 40 below line.

Winter is cracking down in deadly earnest in the near northern section of the province, the low mark at 8:30 Wednesday being 42 below, registered at Fort Vermilion and Keg River, while Athabasca and McMurray both turned in readings of 40 below. A 12 below reading at Spirit River was good enough to earn the title of warmest in the region for that town.

Roads are reported blocked at Fairview, Peace River and Fallher.

Whole armies of Colts used to march united into battle.

For centuries it was contended that the African elephant could not be domesticated, but the Belgian government is offering very tangible proof to the contrary. It costs between $750 and $1,000 to train one of the brute, but he pays good dividends when put to work on the Congo plantations.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

CONSTANCE CORBY, heroine; the richest girl in the world.

BRET HARDESTY, hero; bridge builder.

RODNEY BRANDON, Connie's fiance.

KATIE BLYN, Connie's "double."

CHAPTER XXIV

SPRING had indeed come to the valley, and to the bluegreen hills. Connie knew that in no other spot in the world could it have awakened more beautifully. She knew that this, his own beloved country, was where Bret would come. Hadn't he said that no matter how far he roamed, always he must return here? And she had wondered if Bret's country might come to have the same influence over her.

She knew now, back in the old brick house with its ivy covered walls and stately elms, that this had come to pass; she would find peace here. Whether she again found happiness would depend upon Bret, and Bret alone.

Mrs. Parsons and Eloise had welcomed her as though she had come "home," as indeed she felt she had. What was more rare, and understanding, they had welcomed her without question or comment. It was natural, they seemed to say, and the sleepy little town and the valley with its haze of tender green and its guarding sentries of high hills all seemed to say it, too—that she should return to them. She knew now that no matter how far she should roam, she, too could come back to this serene haven to be born anew.

Connie helped Eloise and her mother about the big house, opening shutters, airing the high-ceilinged rooms; she dug in the garden, loosened the hard earth for young seeds that soon would point tiny green sprouts towards the sun. She helped in the huge kitchen, learning to bake biscuits and corn bread almost as good as "Aunt Bertha's"; she took long tramps over Bret's bridge, up into the hills. The days were full to overflowing, though they were a time of waiting. And then one day the waiting was ended; Connie went to the door to open it to find Bret standing there.

Her heart skipped a beat, turned over, stood still. But her smile was steady and unsurprised, her eyes direct and unwavering.

"Hello," she said as though they had parted but yesterday, instead of weeks ago, and in friendliness, instead of in anger and hatred. "Won't you come in, Bret?" She held wide the door.

He stared. "What are you doing here?" That tiny line was etched about his mouth; a dark flush under his skin; his eyes were guarded, somber. Perhaps they could not believe what they saw, this girl in a simple blue frock, hair blowing and curling about her face, blue eyes clear and untroubled and serene.

"You didn't expect to find me?" she asked. It seemed to her he should have known she would be waiting here.

"Hardly!" His laugh was harsh. "I supposed you were sailing somewhere on azure seas. With Rodney Brandon. Why didn't you go with him?"

"I'll tell you why," Connie answered quietly. "But I can't tell you here. Aren't you coming in, Bret? Or so . . . said! Will you walk with me up on the hill?"

"I didn't suppose you remembered that we had had a thrill," he said grimly. There was no yielding in his dark eyes. "I can't see what's the use of your telling me, after all. I suppose you simply changed your mind again—on another impulse. As you probably will do time and again without end."

"You hate me, don't you, Bret?" Her voice was soft, but her lips quivered. "Not that I blame you. I deserved that. I deserve anything you care to say to me, or think against me. But, please—if I fetch my wrap, before you come in, will you walk up the hill?"

"As you like . . ." His manner said that it did not matter. He would remain as he was; aloof, impersonal, defenses furled.

She caught up an old sweater, pulled it on, closed the door behind her. Without saying anything more they fell into step side by side. They walked in silence, but with their accustomed swinging rhythm, for Connie's step matched his long stride, until they had reached the top of their hill.

The little white church still smiled down upon them; the kingdom that Bret had said belonged to her, still stretched below. In the east night clouds gathered, in the west the sun was a round ball of golden fire.

"Shall we sit down?" Connie asked, and waited for Bret to spread his handkerchief on the log.

He did that for her, but he did not sit down. He stood looking out on that wide panorama of wild, untrammeled majesty, feasting his eyes and his soul.

"It is my country, too, now, Bret," Connie said. "I believe I love it almost as much as you do. I believe I'll always come back to it. I know it will never disappoint me, or fail me, but, like nowhere else in the world, will make me 'free' once more."

"I'm glad—it means that to you," he said; but with that same reserve, and stiff formality. "Naturally, I love it; it is part of me. Not only of me, but of all my people who lived here before me. Plain people, Pioneers. My great-grandfather was granted his plot of land from General Washington."

He had pride in his people, as he had in his land, more than pride, respect and reverence. She understood why; it was the pride of ancestry, of blood; it had nothing to do with fame or money or material things.

"You think I will change again," she said, searching for words to break down the barriers between them; the pride, the hurt, the force of his will. "I shall, I shan't. I am sure of that. Surer than I ever was of anything. I've grown up, Bret. I suppose you think it was about time! It was a painful process. I had to hurt not only myself, but others, too. Rodney for one. You, perhaps, most of all. Or maybe myself—if you won't try to understand and forgive me."

"There is nothing to forgive," he said. Still he stood, staring out at the hills on the horizon, watching the sun sinking slowly behind them, the sky turning into a glory of scarlet and gold, blue and violet. "I am as much at fault as you, there is as much in me to forgive. I let you change me; I thought I could change you. Each of us is what each has always been."

"You're wrong," Connie protested. She got to her feet, stood beside him. She could not bear his cold indifference; it was a knife thrust into her heart. If he no longer loved her, if he thought she had not changed, how could she hope to make him believe in her again, give her another chance, try together, once more, to rebuild their lives and their marriage?

"You're terribly wrong," she said again. "Not that I blame you for thinking of me as you do; I did try to change you, Bret. I'm glad I didn't succeed. I love you because you were different from other men. Because you were as you are."

"And I love a girl named Katie Blyn." His tone was bitter as he turned on her, for a moment only. "You're not trying to tell me you are that girl again!"

She shook her head, caught her lip between her teeth; tears pressed so close behind her eyelids, a choking in her throat. "No, not that girl. But not Constance Corby, either. Maybe you will believe me, Bret—and believe in me—when I tell you what I have decided to do."

If he did not, then nothing ever could make him. She would know that he never would love her again. That her plan, though she would carry it through, alone, if necessary, would not bring him back to her.

"What have you decided to do?" Bret asked her.

She said, "I have decided to give away all my millions."

450 FARMS IN NORTH MAY GO UNDER HAMMER

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Feb. 9 — Unless orders are countermanded some 450 farms in the Blueberry Mountain district are scheduled to come under the auctioneer's hammer on Feb. 18 for non-payment of taxes, according to registered letters which have been received from the department of municipal affairs. The whole district has been flooded with the letters, to the consternation of the recipients, who see no possible chance of paying up before the date set.

Most of the recipients of the notices are men who homesteaded the district over twenty years ago, and many of them are returned soldiers. If they are sold out there is nothing for them to do but move off the farms and there is no work in the district. A move is on foot to have the sale protested on the floor of the legislature.

Most of the farms are taxed far beyond their value, and the majority of the settlers have had a hard job to make a living while proving up their homesteads. It is certain that the arrears of taxes now against the properties can never be paid off if penalties and interest are insisted upon, and even if these are waived the payments will have to be spread over a number of years if the farms are to be kept in production and "proved."

GOVERNMENT OF MANITOBA IS DEFEATED

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9 — Premier John Bracken's Liberal-Progressive government was defeated 25-21 in the Manitoba legislature today when a Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation amendment to the Election Act was given second reading and sent to law amendments committee. Only government members voted against the amendment.

The government has only 23 seats in the 55-member house but it met several minor defeats last session. Premier Bracken explaining resignation would follow defeat only on a major issue. Conservatives have 15 seats, C.C.F. seven, Social Credit five, Independents four and Communist one.

The amendment, introduced by J. J. Farmer of Winnipeg, C.C.F. leader, seeks to eliminate the $200 deposit by candidates in provincial elections and substitute a provision a candidate be obliged to have 50 voters sign his nomination papers.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

The Scots' Game

Quaint Brooms

Payoff Picture

YESTERDAY Albertans who have never seen the heather of Scotland got an eyeful of the Scottish curling that is generally accepted as the pure and unadulterated mother game of the Canadian version. It undoubtedly has its fine points, but too much emphasis seems to be placed on drawing. It could do with a shot of vigor that characterizes curling in western Canada. Most of those who saw the Scots in action will agree that their game was clever, but few would go so far as to say that it was thrilling. It is hardly the type of game suited the wide variations of ice conditions that must be met on the Canadian prairies.

Too much should not be expected however from the visiting party. They make no claims to be the best in Scotland. They are merely a party of sportsmen making a goodwill tour of the Dominion. They have been travelling incessantly, playing daily with strange rocks on strange ice and keeping up with a constant round of entertainment. It is a mighty tough grind to face day after day.

However in the years to come, native Albertans are likely to remember these Scots for their quaint brooms and methods of skipping. They use what looks a small stable broom—the sort you push ahead of you. These besoms really gave the lads on the sidelines a big kick.

Sweeping with the Canadian type of broom is herculean work and a good sweeper is really graceful to watch. The Scots on the other hand seemed to scrub the ice rather than sweep it and they seldom put much effort into it. Scottish skips carried brilliant handkerchiefs which they dropped on the ice in front of the rock they wanted hit, picking it up when the stone neared the hog line. They used their brooms to give the thrower the "ice" and also to give him a graphic picture of what he wanted done. Some of them appeared rather uncomfortable in throwing from a hack.

Four Cities In Playoff Picture

LAST fall hopes were high in Edmonton that with this installation of artificial ice, we should get the Allan cup games as Calgary did in 1937. At that time it was argued in this column that the only way Edmonton could be sure of a playoff payoff was by having a team that would be an Allan cup contender. That forecast is completely borne out by the tentative playoff arrangements released by Dr. W. G. Hardy, vice-president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Calgary, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Winnipeg are all in the running right now for the playoffs in the junior and senior divisions. What they will get depends largely on what their teams do. That is fair enough, but it clearly emphasizes the folly of fixing up an expensive artificial ice plant without making certain of a title-contender to put in it.

I am not predicting that the Dominions and E.A.C. will not go very far on the title trail. They may surprise everyone. I am contending however that it is poor business to spend something like $40,000 on an ice plant without making some effort to get a team that is almost certain to bring a major portion of playoff profits to such a plant for a few years at least.

The tentative playoff plans are briefly these. If the E.A.C. wins the Alberta junior title, then all games between them and the B.C. champs will be in Edmonton. If the E.A.C. take British Columbia, then at least two-thirds of the Alberta-Saskatchewan junior playoff will be here. If the E.A.C. becomes a western finalist for the Abbott cup, the series is likely to be here. If Saskatchewan and Manitoba are finalists, the series [illegible] Winnipeg.

Senior Locales Depend On Winners

THE location of senior playoff games depend on what teams win. If Calgary Rangers or Luscar win the Alberta championship, then the first game of the Alberta-B.C. playoff will be in B.C. and the rest in Calgary. If Edmonton wins the provincial title then the first game of the inter-provincial series will be in B.C. and the balance here.

The far-western champions then advance against Saskatchewan with the first game in Alberta and the balance in Saskatchewan. The western senior final, if Edmonton gets the Abbott cup series in the junior section, will be divided between Saskatoon and Calgary, with Edmonton getting a possible game if the series is long enough.

If Edmonton does not get the western junior final, the western senior final will be split among Saskatoon, Calgary and Edmonton. The city drawing the best gate will get the best of the deal.

There is no question but what Dr. Hardy is trying to be absolutely fair to all and do what he can in return for Edmonton and Saskatoon putting in artificial ice. If either city is not satisfied, they can blame themselves for not making certain of a title-contender.

Callahan Tough Grappler But Louis To Keep Order

MUSHY CALLAHAN has been a problem child to most referees to date because he's a tough fella, but Friday night at the Memorial Hall the tough Mr. Callahan will have the firm officiating of Louis Lavoie keeping him under control and will meet up with the stiffish opposition of Larry Jacobsen in the main wrestling event. The first bout of the evening will start at 8.30 p.m.

KEEPS FANS ON TOES

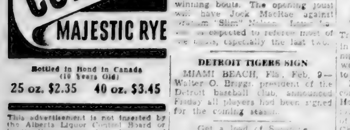

A classy performer who keeps the fans on their toes during every minute of [illegible] rest periods, Callahan is expected to encounter much trouble in his bout with Jacobsen. Larry is an Edmonton grappler, who won Dominion amateur championships and who has brightened his wrestling ways with ample color and showmanship.

Edmonton's wrestling bouts have been improving greatly every week until they are about the hottest sport on the market. This Friday's lineup should be no exception to the rule of "hot" jousts for every bout is well matched.

In the other half of the main event the fast and clever Darby Melnick will tackle the tough Billy Meyers and is expected to give Meyers a thorough dressing down. Meyers, wrestling Gil Pearson for his first bout here last week, proved to be as good as any grappler to appear here.

PELZER VS. PEARSON

Hubert von Pelzer, the scientific young German will have to contend with the wrestling knowledge of Gil "Pretty Boy" Pearson in a semi-windup. This bout will be clean and fast throughout as both wrestlers depend upon their cleverness in winning bouts. The opening joust will have Jock MacRae against William "Slim" Nelson. Louis Lavoie is expected to referee most of the bouts, especially the last two.

BOB PIRIE SHATTERS GAMES SWIM RECORDS; CANUCK DIVERS GIVE BRILLIANT EXHIBITION

Rangy Toronto Swimmer Breaks 110-Yard and 440-Yard Events—Sets Lap Mark In Relay Race—Divers Good

SYDNEY, Feb. 9—The flailing arms of Toronto's Bob Pirie carried him to two championships in the British Empire games swimming program today, and narrowly missed annexing a third title to Canada as he turned in as dazzling a performance as Sydney swim fans have ever seen.

The rangy Toronto boy opened the day with a record-breaking victory in the 110-yard free style, clipping 1.2 seconds from the mark he established for the new Empire distance in Monday's heat. He cracked the Australian 220-yard mark and his own Canadian record time for the distance when he failed by two seconds to overcome on the last lap England's lead in the 880-yard relay.

CLIPS 5.2 SECONDS

Then he climaxed the program with another record-smashing victory, clipping 5.2 seconds from the eight-year-old 440-yard free-style time of 4:59.8.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 watched the Toronto ace put on an inspired burst of speed in the last 30 yards to defeat England's speedy Robert Leivers and Robert Biddulph, young Australian sensation, in the 440-yard event.

Pirie's 110-yard triumph was a prelude to a brilliant exhibition by a quartet of Canada's diving stars.

CALGARY GIRL THIRD

Diminutive Lynda Adams of Vancouver placed second to Irene Donnett of Australia in the women's springboard with Marie Sharkey of Calgary third and Barbara Richards, Winnipeg, fifth.

The Australian girl won with 91.18 points and Miss Adams was awarded 88.27 in judging that brought outspoken criticism from Canadian spectators for the disparity in points, ranging in one instance from nine points to one when the Vancouver girl was performing. Concensus of expert opinion was that Miss Donnett won by a narrow margin.

Miss Sharkey had 81.66 and Richards 69.18.

Miss Adams was announced second in the high tower diving, won by L. Hook of Australia with 36.47 points. The diminutive Vancouver diver compiled 36.33 but to competent critics she deserved top ranking.

George Athans, 16-year-old Vancouver diver, was ranked third in both the springboard and tower divings events.

Athans collected 98.93 points in the tower exhibition. Douglas Tomalin, England, had 108.74 and P. Master, Australia, 102.87.

Tomalin and Master reversed placings in the springboard event with the Australian collecting 126.36 points and Tomalin 124.78. Athans had 111.39.

TORONTO GIRL BEST

Dorothy Lyon, of Toronto, turned in the best performance of Canada's feminine swimmers who found themselves up against stiff opposition from two sister dominions and Great Britain.

Miss Lyon placed third behind Evelyn de Lacy and Dorothy Green of Australia, who finished in that order in the 110-yard free style. Phyllis Dewar, of Vancouver, was fourth when she misjudged her pace and started a great closing sprint too late to catch the leaders.

The Toronto girl's defeat was surprising for she had been conceded a good chance to finish in front on earlier performances.

Dorothy Hobson, of Toronto, got away to a poor start in the women's 440-yard free style final but turned in a spectacular spurt on the last lap in one of the most thrilling women's races of the games.

Dorothy Green, of Australia, led most of the way to win in 5:39.7, establishing a new Empire mark. She was followed closely by Winnifred Jeffrey, of England, who missed overtaking the Australian girl by a touch. Her time was 5:40.2 and Monica Leydon, of New Zealand, was third with 5:42. All three times bettered the record of 5:45.4 set in 1934 by Joyce Cooper of England.

DEWAR SOON TIRES

Phyllis Dewar of Vancouver appeared to tire suddenly soon after the start and trailed well behind the leaders, finishing sixth in the field of seven.

Canada's backstroke entries failed to come through over the 110-yard distance where Pat Norton of Australia established an Empire record of 1:19.5. Jeanne Greenland of Wales was second in 1:22.5 and Margaret Hamilton of Scotland, third in 1:23.2.

First Canadian to finish—Noel Oxenbury of New Westminster, B.C.—was timed in 1:23.3 for fourth place. Florence Humble of Montreal was tied with Lorna Frampton, England, for sixth place in 1:24.1.

Jimmy Prentice of Toronto wound up third in the men's 220-yard breaststroke final where John Davies of England set up an Empire mark of 2:51.9. Formerly the distance was 200 yards.

The Toronto swimmer was 1.3 seconds behind Walter Spence, British Guiana representative who swam the first 25 metres under [illegible]

Set For Dalke Tonight

GORDON GRAYSON.

hard-hitting beak-buster from Wainwright, who headlines tonight's fight card at the Memorial hall with Kid Dalke of Saskatchewan in a 10-round joust. Dalke, one of the prairie province's most outstanding exponents of the fistic art, held a workout today at the Osborne Athletic gym and impressed those watching with his speed and footwork. The semi-main event will send Johnny Loftus and Don Carmichael against each other in an eight-round go. The first of the five bouts will get under way at 8:30.

JUNIORS TO OPEN CITY FINAL ARENA TONIGHT

CHAMPIONSHIP hockey will be played tonight at the Arena when Edmonton Athletic Club lines up against Safeways in the first of a best-three-of-five-game series for the city title in the Junior Hockey League. The game will start at 8:30 p.m.

Safeways, fresh from an unexpected triumph over the E.A.C. last week, will make a desperate bid to upset the dope again tonight to take a lead in the important series. The Safeways have proven they can be hard fighting puckchasers if they wish to get down to business. Tonight's game is important business for them and they will be at full strength to do battle against the bigger, speedier and more clever clubmen.

In league competition the E.A.C. has lost but two of their 15 engagements. They have piled up large scores and ended the league with 97 goals to their credit. The first string line of Eric Beauchamp, centre, Bob Carse and Marsh Darling on the wings has been going smartly while other forwards such as Bud Foley, Lunde, Paull Steffes, Ritchie, Tougas have given good support. The E.A.C. defence is strong with Sawchuk and Young making a firm blue-line chain. Bud Algar gives smart support in this department.

While E.A.C. is favored, a hard fought game is anticipated.

Dominions, Superiors To Clash Thursday In Typical Intra-City Hockey Encounter

NEEDING the two points in order to maintain their second place position, the Dominions will be out in full force Thursday night at the Arena when they meet their city rivals, the Superiors in their second last clash of the season. Thursday's game will start at 8:30 p.m.

The Dominions will apply their hottest attack in order to beat back the Soops. The Dominion squad has about the best goal average in the Big Six League to date and will be out to glean those two necessary points.

On the other hand the Soops have proven somewhat of "giant killers" after they were eliminated from the playoffs. They have done well in their last few games and are expected to again hit a fast pace.

Gehrig-Ruppert Chin For Hours But It's No Dice

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—Florida's spring sports program was assured another four-star attraction when Colonel Jake Ruppert and Lou Gehrig defied each other, formally.

The Colonel offered Lou another $36,000 to play with New York Yankees the coming season, and got snubbed. Lou said he would play for $41,400, or an increase of 15 per cent.

They came out of it, the millionaire brewer and the hard-hitting first baseman, swearing no compromise. This was taken to mean that they would get together at St. Petersburg about March 15 and sign the papers.

If anything, Ruppert impressed observers as being in a more stubborn frame of mind than his 35-year-old employee. He said he wouldn't pay Gehrig another cent; also, that his other noted holdout, Joe DiMaggio, could perform for the $25,000 offered him or stay at home.

Four Competitions In Stettler 'Spiel

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

STETTLER, Feb. 9.—Stettler annual bonspiel is scheduled for the 15th, 16th and 17th of this month. Eight sheets of ice will be available again this year and there should be no delay in the draws. Two primary and two secondary competitions will be drawn as usual and there may be a special visitors' competition. Upwards of 30 rinks are expected to enter.

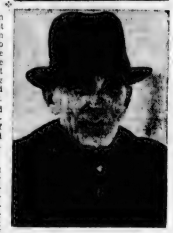

Dominion Champion First Giant To Be Knocked From Race

Veteran Wetaskiwin Skip Disposes of Manahan After Titanic Struggle—Deeton and Trimble of Calgary Win

By JACK KELLY

PLAY Tuesday in the Grand Challenge brought the first downfalls of the Alberta Curling Association's bonspiel for a handful of powerful rinks and left only 21 squads undefeated in any event.

The feature game of the two draws run off yesterday was the defeat of Cliff Manahan, 1937 Dominion champion, by George McLaughlin's rink of Wetaskiwin in the Grand Challenge. It was the first clash between giants that the draw has produced and brought brilliant curling by both rinks. The veteran Wetaskiwin skip, winner of the Grand Challenge here in 1936, edged out Manahan 11-10.

GEO. McLAUGHLIN

McLaughlin and his mighty men were three up going home and at one time had a four-up lead. When Manahan went to the hack to throw his last rock he had to take out two Wetaskiwin stones and lie to tie the game. Cliff had to split a hair on ice that was lightning fast. His shot was a trifle off and he took out two of his own rocks.

Visiting rinks continued to hold their own against the best that Edmonton squads could do. Out of the 21 undefeated rinks at the end of Tuesday's play, 11 were visitors.

THE HONOR ROLL

Rinks undefeated in any event at the close of yesterday's play were: Chrystal of Carstairs; Cowlew of Wainwright; Deeton of Calgary; Delameter of Thorsby; Goddard of Delburne; Gregory of the Thistle club; Hope of the Royal; Hunter of Sylvan Lake; Laight of the Edmonton club; Latta of the Thistle; McLaughlin of Wetaskiwin; Morison of Ponoka; Mowbray of the Thistle; Munroe of the Royal; Nesbit of the Thistle; Roper of Rimbey; Billy Rose of Sedgewick; Scott of the Royal; Trimble of Calgary; Vellieux of the Granite, and Longmuir of Alberta Avenue.

Another class of first magnitude stars yesterday brought the elimination of Wanless of Granite from the Grand Challenge as Harold Deeton of Calgary defeated him 9-4. Henry Trimble, also of Calgary, kept his winning record intact with a 17-12 victory over Gallagher of Chipman. Delameter of Thorsby remained in the charmed circle of the undefeated when he won over Fitzgerald of Royal 12-11 in a 13-ender. Delameter had to draw to the button with his last rock to win. It was a master shot and Delameter made it like one.

SCOTS IN ACTION

Today only one draw, the 9.00 a.m. one, will be run off owing to the international test matches this afternoon with the Scots and the Civic curling banquet at the Macdonald immediately after. Four games in this draw are in the Eaton competition, while the balance are in the King Edward which is open to all those winning their first games in the Grand Challenge.

Following are the complete results of Tuesday's bonspiel play:

LETHBRIDGE LEAFS DRUB MINERS 11-1

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 9. — Two thousand saw Lethbridge Maple Leafs skate a 11-1 victory around Rossland Miners here last night. Maple Leafs seldom was threatening and the scoring tally showed a representative record for the team.

Bob Kirkpatrick netted three, Alex Kaleta and Ken Stewart each two, and one each was credited to Ben Hayes, Johnny Ursaki, Bill Onufrechuk and Jimmy McIndoe.

The first period brought out Kirkpatrick in brisk form to score two goals in sharp retaliation for Rossland's one and only. Stan Smith scored for Rossland in the first five minutes. It was 5-1 at the end of the first period.

INCREASE LEAD

In the second period Stewart, Kaleta, Kirkpatrick and Onufrechuk crowded the Rossland nets to lift the score to 9-1.

The third period showed less speed for Rossland but continued driving by the Lethbridge skaters. Lethbridge was inside the blue line when Petroski drew a penalty for tripping.

KITCHENER KIDS PACE BRUINS TO 3-1 VICTORY

Bauer Gets Two Points As Boston Bodies Hawks Into Costly Defeat

BOSTON, Feb. 9. — The "Kitchener kids" from Ontario sparked Boston Bruins to another National Hockey League win last night as they combined for two goals in a 3-1 defeat of Chicago Black Hawks.

After getting off to a slow start, Bruins put on the pressure to tighten their grip on top place in the American division before 12,000 fans at the Boston garden.

It was the second time in three nights that the Bruins, minus Dit Clapper and Ray Getliffe, have turned back Bill Stewart's team.

HAWKS HOLD FIRM

After a scoreless first period, Bauer sent the Bruins into the lead by slipping a shot underneath Mike Karakas as the Chicago goalie attempted to smother the puck during the first minute of the middle frame. The Hawks held firm until the third minute of the final period, when Jackson whacked Cooney Weiland's rebound home as Karakas sprawled outside his cage.

Trailing 2-0, Hawks put on a furious five-man attack and at 11:44, Bert Connolly, pulled up from Springfield International American League club, provided the Hawks with their only tally.

BAUER BREAKS FAST

While Chicago mobbed the Boston zone Bauer trapped them and clinched the game by setting up an early goal for Woody Dumart, with seven minutes to go.

The Bruins pulled up Mel Hill and Jack Crawford from their Providence farm and Stewart's forces were hampered by the loss of Art Wiebe, Lou Trudel and Mush March.

Sweeney Schriner Returns To Scoring Form As Amerks Beat Maroons, 3-1

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Dave (Sweeney) Schriner's return to scoring form brought New York Americans their first National Hockey League win in more than a month last night as they handed a 3-1 beating to Montreal Maroons.

The victory, first in the Amerks' 11 starts since Jan. 2, gave them a five-point advantage over the Montreal team, cellar-dwellers in the league's Canadian section and placed them the same distance behind the second-place Montreal Canadiens.

SWEENEY GETS TWO

Schriner, the league's leading scorer for the last two years, scored two of the three goals as the Amerks drubbed the pace team for the fifth time in as many meetings this campaign.

A crowd of 8,000, second smallest of the season here, saw the star-spangled team score two goals in the last seven minutes of play after Marsons had tied the count early in the third period. Schriner had sent the New Yorkers ahead in the second session on a play with Eddie Wiseman while Allen Shields was serving a penalty.

Bob Gracie sank the equalizer for Maroons in combination with Herbie Cain and Gus Marker.

Driving a sizzler from just inside the blue line, Happy Emms came through with the goal that put the Amerks ahead in the third session and placed them the same distance behind the second-place Montreal Canadiens.

SUMMARY

First period: Scoring, none. Penalty: Robinson.

Second period: 1—Americans, Schriner (Wiseman) 5:14. Penalties: Shields, Johnson.

BENOIT, DAME CRONIE PACE TRAIL TO WIN

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 9—Trail Smoke Eaters rode roughshod over Nelson Maple Leafs last night in a West Kootenay Hockey league game here, defeating the Leafs by a 6-2 score.

Joe Benoit and Ab Cronie led the Smoke Eaters' attack, each scoring twice, Benoit's counters coming in the first and third sessions while Cronie scored in the first and second periods.

JOE GETS A COUPLE

Benoit started off Trail's counters less than a quarter of a minute after the start of the game when he beat McKay in the Nelson net after taking a pass from Bunny Dame.

Dame and Cronie paired for the next counter, the former finding the net only 10 seconds after the first goal. Cronie took a pass from Benoit 15 minutes later to give Trail a 3-0 lead at the end of the period.

Red Carr cut the margin somewhat a minute and a half after the start of the second period when he beat Dave Parker with a hard shot on a pass from Jack Kilpatrick. Six minutes later Trail's forwards worked the puck to Nelson's end of the ice and Benoit scored on a pass from Cronie.

GET ONE EACH

With the third period only three minutes old Dave Duchak scored unassisted for the Smoke Eaters and a minute later Bunny Smith took a pass from Bonneville to score Nelson's second and last counter of the game.

The Cronie-Benoit combination accounted for Trail's sixth counter mid-way through the period, the former taking the pass and driving the rubber past McKay.

SCOTS WIN TWO, TIE ONE IN CURLING GAMES HERE

MATCHING splendid sportsmanship and "draw" curling against the more vigorous Canadian game, the visiting Scottish curlers played six friendly games here Tuesday afternoon against six picked country rinks, and six friendly games in the evening against a half dozen of the city's picked squads. Out of these 12 games the Scots won two and tied one.

The Scots showed unmistakable signs of weariness from their long trip across Canada with constant curling and entertainment, but they went into their games on schedule and gave their best.

Only victories chalked up for the visitors from Scotland were the games against country rinks. George Reid, of Strathclyde, won over Dick Thomson, of Ponoka 19-8, while Dr. Richmond, of Fife, the grand old veteran of them all, defeated Bert Robinson, of Jasper, 7-6. The best that the Scots could do against Edmonton rinks in the evening was a single tie, Reid of Strathclyde shedlocking Ritchie, of the Granite 5-5.

At noon on Tuesday the Scots were the guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon, while in the evening they were the guests of the executive of the Alberta Curling association at an informal dinner in the Macdonald.

Following are the end scores for the afternoon games:

Comets Register Sixth Straight Hoop Victory

The Comets' 46-26 victory over the Wasps at McDougall Gym last night was the sixth straight win for this club in the Edmonton, Intermediate Ladies' Basketball League.

Shooting with splendid accuracy, in the first string of the Comets coasted for 46 of the 46 points. Betty Bawden with 11, Evelly Taylor and Victoria Allard with 10 each, Victoria Ewasiuk with eight and Hilda Hughes with 7, featured a machine like offensive of whom was a scoring threat.

Evelyn Barnett and Cal Holmgren were responsible for six and five worked tirelessly for the Wasps and points, respectively. In the last period the losers made a surprisingly effective attempt to close the gap in the scoring, and actually outscored the Comets 9-8, but this, of course, fell far short of the total which was to show another win for the Hollingsworth-coached club.

Comets: Bawden 11, Ewasiuk 8, Hughes 7, Taylor 10, Allard 10, Christian 2, Smith, Green 2, Cook, Strachan, MacRitchie. Total 46. Fouls 9. Accuracy, 22-57.

Wasps: Melnyk 5, Holmgren 6, Ford, Cross 4, D'Arcy 2, Barnett 8, McIntyre 3. Total 26. Fouls 8. Accuracy 12-60.

Next game Thursday at Varsity, 7:00 p.m. Co-eds vs. Comets. Officials: Tomick and Shaw.

GOLDEN BEARS RAP NETS FOR DECISIVE 8-3 WIN

Students Torture Twine For Six Goals In First Period; McLaren, McKay Star

By KEN METHERAL

FAR from satisfied with the winning of just one championship, the Halpenny trophy, won when they defeated University of Saskatchewan, Varsity Golden Bears returned to Edmonton this time to administer a sound 8-3 thumping to the Capital club at Varsity rink last night. It was the first of a best-two-of-three-game series for the Northern Intermediate Hockey League championship. The second game of the series will be played at Varsity rink, Thursday night commencing at 8:30 p.m.

Honors for the smashing green and gold victory went to Grey McLaren, rubber stopping wizard in the Varsity net, and Dave MacKay, stalwart of the Student's defence.

McKAY GOT THREE

Wee David also took out from his bruising work on the defence to saunter up the ice and ring the bell for three goals to become leading scorer of the evening.

Mottershead in the Capital net was badly off form and the students had little trouble rolling up a 6-0 lead in the opening canto.

Only McLaren's ability to bounce around in front of the puck kept the Capital sextet from taking an overwhelming lead in the first few minutes of play. The lone tie in the Varsity citadel time and again before Pat Costigan grabbed the puck, raced away to the Capital blue line and blazed a shot that Mottershead let get by him. From then on there was no stopping the students as Dewie, Stanley, Drake, MacKay and Costigan scored in that order.

ROUGHEN UP PLAY

The game roughened up in the middle session with MacKay starting a parade to the cooler that rolled up a total of 16 minutes in penalties before the ten minute mark. Brant and Costigan climaxed the opening festivities by whaling into each other to clear up old style. Before the two gladiators could step back on the ice all the scoring for the period was finished.

Don McTavish fired the opening Capital goal with the assistance of Herb Horne and Spud Taylor on a pretty passing play that carried them right through a weakened Varsity sextet. Thirty-seven seconds later Wee David Mackay got that one back, breaking away from a Capital power play to beat Mottershead with a hard drive. Then Capitals returned the compliment by scoring 17 seconds later, Bobby Graham notched the tally.

Spud Taylor started the third period by collecting his third trip to the cooler and then the fans were treated to the unique sight of the weakened team putting on a power play with every man up the ice. In fact, Capitals played every man up the ice for the greater part of the game, but they just couldn't shove the rubber past McLaren. Dave MacKay barged down the ice to chalk up his third goal of the evening and score Varsity's eighth and final marker.

Capitals' desperate scoring threats couldn't be held off for ever and to Herbie Horne went the honor of collecting the game's final tally on a beautiful passing play with Spud Taylor. McLaren was given no festivities by whaling into each chance to save.

LES CANADIENS BRING UP BEST OF FARM TEAM

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League dipped deeply into the roster of the New Haven Eagles (affiliated) Int.-Am farm club and came up with George Brown and Orele Asmundsen, centres, and Gus Mancuso, right winger, to fill gaps left by four players' injuries. They will go into action here Thursday night against Chicago Black Hawks. Though Mancuso and Brown have worn the Canadien uniform before, it will be Asmundsen's first appearance in the blue-blanc-rouge livery. The 20-year-old pivot from Red Deer, Alta., has played with New York Rangers in the N.H.L. and with Vancouver and the Bronx in the minors since turning pro in 1937.

This year, he is among the top-flight scorers in the Int.-Am. Last official league scoring records show he has eight goals and 14 assists.

Just as the second hand ticked its way past the 18 minute mark, Graves won a free trip to the cooler for tripping, and Lemieux a habit of nigh shocking his opponents won him one 3 minute jaunt.

J. J. BURNS FACES COURT FOR RE-TRIAL

James J. Burns, Edmonton real estate agent, went on trial Tuesday afternoon before Mr. Justice W. R. Howson in supreme court on a charge of stealing a duplicate mortgage. The alleged theft took place between October 17, 1934, and November 29, 1934.

Burns was found guilty of this charge by M. Justice W. C. Ives on May 25 last, but won a new trial when the Alberta court of appeal held that there had been mis-direction of the jury on vital evidence.

The duplicate mortgage was made by Leo Busse, North Edmonton blacksmith, on December 18, 1929, in favor of August Minchau, and was for $1,000.

Since the trial in May of last year August Minchau, Edmonton oldtimer, has died, and evidence given by him at that trial was read into the record by agreement with counsel for the accused. Hugh Cavan Macdonald, K.C., is acting for Burns, and E. B. Cogswell, K.C., is prosecuting.

The hearing is proceeding.

Look Up Book If Burglar Is Cracking Door

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—All residents of suburban Winnetka have to do in a crime crisis is to refer to a neat new booklet sent them Tuesday. If, for instance, a burglar pies a jimmy at the back door, the householder merely pops out of bed, opens the directory, and reads: "Go to a telephone and in a low voice say you want the police." The books are entitled "Suggestions from the Police Department."

War Veteran, 36, Said Missing

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9.—Sergeant-Major Charles McLellan, 36-year-old Great War veteran of the Winnipeg Light Infantry Regiment carried overseas by the late Jeff Nix, left his lodging house last Thursday and hasn't been seen since. He suffered a head injury a year ago and it is feared he may be suffering from amnesia. Enquiries are being made for him at Vancouver where he has relatives.

Congella Named Airways Base

DURBAN, South Africa, Feb. 9.—Congella, the industrial area of Durban, is to become the terminus of Imperial Airways' flying-boat service—the most ambitious airways terminus of its kind in the southern hemisphere. The base will cost between £80,000 and £90,000.

Grown in Massachusetts, a squash measured 4½ feet in length and 22 inches in diameter, weighing 105 pounds.

DAIRYING IN NEW ZEALAND GAINS GROUND

Alberta Dairymen Hear Address By John Keay On Wednesday

Dairying in New Zealand is making steady progress due to the country's climate and the use of modern machinery, John Keay, of the Dairy Branch in Edmonton, told the buttermakers' section of the Alberta Dairymen's Association at its annual convention in the Macdonald hotel Wednesday morning.

Mr. Keay visited New Zealand in October, spending seven weeks there.

Growth of the dairy industry in the country is shown by the fact that in 1914 there were only 36 million pounds, while in 1935-36 it was 425 million pounds, he said.

LIKE HUGE LAWN

Most conspicuous feature of the country is its "green grass which makes all New Zealand look like a huge lawn," the speaker pressed in explaining that dairy activities in that area are dependent upon an abundant grass growth.

The farmer receives a set price as fixed by the New Zealand government, Mr. Keay explained, the vagaries of market, fluctuations in currency, as high or a little higher than the one prevailing in the London market, he indicated.

GENERAL ACQUIESCENCE

Had the government price been lower than the world one, marked dissatisfaction would have been voiced at the government policy, Mr. Keay said, but as it was there seems to be general acquiescence with the plan.

More extensive use of fertilizers will augment production, he continued, in predicting that there is much needed room for this growth of dairying will stop.

Success of Alberta buttermakers in National competition is due to their "remarkable," associate chief, instructor and grading services, Ottawa, said in complimenting on the convention exhibit.

Value of the industry to Alberta assured, if present status is a knowledge of its later growth, he continued.

SWEENEY PRAISED

Praise for the work of J. R. Sweeney, dairy commissioner, and his staff in preparing the convention exhibit was on display in the Powell block, Jasper avenue, which was sounded by the speaker.

Other features of the educational sessions included a speech on "The Alberta Butter Grading Report," by Jos. Burgoyne, chief of the dairy grading services, Ottawa; "Metals in Butter," by Dr. H. R. Thornton, University of Alberta; Dr. J. B. Linneboe, dairy bacteriologist, dairy Branch Laboratory Report, 1937; Dr. E. G. Hood, chief, division of dairy research, Ottawa, on "Factors Affecting the Distribution of Moisture and Salt in Creamery Butter."

Demonstrations in butter competitions was led by Alex. Ross and J. Clemesen, while W. L. Perley and R. Newell spoke on cream improvement.

BOWSTEAD SPEAKS

Presided over by K. A. Cameron, the producers' section of the association heard speeches by Dr. J. R. Bowstead, University of Alberta, on "Relation of Feed to the Quality and Composition of Milk;" A. G. Campbell, dairy specialist, Ottawa, of Keeping Production Records," discussion of which was led by F. Knecht Blackfalds; Dr. H. R. Thornton, University of Alberta, "Some Problems in the Production of High Quality Milk and Cream;" Dr. J. B. Fryer, University of Alberta, "Milk Production in Central and Northern Alberta;" and O. S. Longman, field crops commissioner, Ottawa, on "Crop Production as a Factor in Successful Dairying."

NEW HIGH IN DAIRY OUTPUT FOR PROVINCE

the creamery butter produced, which graded 93 score butter in first grade.

He said that Alberta's record of 58.3 per cent of score butter in first grade was a valuable asset in the marketing of creamery butter made by the province, and for the second year in succession Alberta shows the highest percentage in first grade butter in the western provinces.

Mr. Sweeney gave credit to the producers, cream graders, butter makers and creamery operators for the team work which has been responsible for the improvement in Alberta butter.

The dairy commissioner called attention to the fact that during 1937 at the 10 large Canadian exhibitions Alberta exhibits won 1031 prizes and 1,000 points 47 per cent of all prizes offered, and 41.4 per cent of the total prizes. These awards have brought much favorable publicity to Alberta butter and much credit to Alberta buttermakers.

In addition to the advertising value these awards have, he stated, are developing better butter makers and creamerymen. The educational value of the awards is far exceeds the value of the prizes involved.

CHEESE OUTPUT

Cheese output in the province increased 27 per cent over 1936, stated the commissioner, the total output being 1,450,000 pounds. Two new factories were established during the year and one factory is now in course of construction.

D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture for Alberta, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the province and referred to the showing of Alberta dairymen at the Toronto Royal. He promised also that resolutions passed at the convention would be given sympathetic and prompt attention when received in the department.

Mayor J. W. Fry extended greetings from the city and in a racy speech recalled some of his experiences as a farmer in this district in the early days of the province's development.

VEGETABLE OILS

F. B. Haythorne, South Edmonton, president of the association, in a brief address touched upon some of the problems facing dairymen and expressed satisfaction with the progress made in the dairy industry during 1937. He intimated that one of the problems which dairymen must face in the future would be vegetable oils in replacing butter for cooking purposes. He intimated that this matter would be dealt with further at later meetings.

The financial statement presented to the meeting showed a satisfactory condition in a sound position.

The afternoon session of the Alberta Dairymen's association was to discussion on operating problems while the Alberta Dairy Calf Club Breeders' Association held its 1938 plans and resolutions to be presented to the government to further the interests of pure-bred dairy herds. Considerable discussion took place on the "scrub bull" and methods to be adopted for the elimination of this menace to dairy cattle production.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

The following directors were elected for 1938: G. R. Ball, South Edmonton, representing the Shorthorn breeders; H. Rivett, Blackfalds, representing the Holstein breeders; John Richards, Red Deer, representing the Ayrshire breeders; N. S. Clarke, Didsbury, Jersey breeders; John R. Atkinson, St. Albert; Red Deer; Leduc and Ed. W. D. Frith, Edmonton, the Guernsey breeders.

In the science section a number of technical papers were given, including that by Dr. E. G. Hood, of the dairy division, Dominion of Ottawa, on "Some Factors in Relation to Cheesemaking," and that by Dr. Hood on "Some Factors Affecting the Flavor and Quality of Commercial Cheese Week" and "The Setting of Alberta Cheese" by E. T. Love, Woodland Dairy, Edmonton.

M'FARLAND IN WIDE PLEA TO JOIN IN UNITY

Chairman Of Unity Council Urges Formation Of Unity Associations

CALGARY, Feb. 8.—A call to all Alberta people interested in the re-establishment of "responsible government" to form non-political Unity Associations was made by John I. McFarland, chairman of the provincial Unity Council of Alberta here last night.

Mr. McFarland outlined the objectives of the council and declared: "I urge every man and woman who believes in a democratic business government to commence without delay and not only assist but also insist on and forming Unity associations throughout every constituency."

NEED TO ORGANIZE

Organization was necessary, he said, so that when the time arrived candidates could be nominated "who will support unity of purpose and represent your ideals of government."

Mr. McFarland said when Unity organizations are completed a province-wide meeting of constituency delegates would be held to elect an executive and adopt a policy of re-construction.

He charged the Social Credit government of Premier William Aberhart had failed to implement or admit the failure of its pre-election promises and had failed in the readjustment of debt.

WILFUL DEFAULTERS

"The result is we are unnecessarily branded as wilful defaulters by the rest of the world."

Mr. McFarland declared moratoriums, such as in operation in Alberta, had become the refuge of legislative procrastinators.

"The premier exclaims 'When the dominion government says ultra vires, I say moratorium.' He would be a dictator and dominate Canada," said Mr. McFarland. "And because the constitution stands in his way he calls moratorium and the government goes on a sit-down strike."

He urged that "old partyism" be rejected and declared it had been demonstrated during the last six months the fusion of political parties in Alberta could not be achieved.

SUBMERGE STRIFE

"I urge you to submerge all local and party strife and rise in unison and without delay against a common peril," he added.

Mr. McFarland warned against the reported plan of the Social Credit government to abandon its contract with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and establish its own provincial police force.

"Unless the people of Alberta rise in protest and plainly inform Premier Aberhart that they will not tolerate the removal of the R.C.M.P. and its replacement by a force of police selected by himself and his experts, I am fearful of the brand of justice which may govern in this province," he said.

Under the present contract with the federal government the R.C.M.P. policed the province at a cost of $275,000 annually.

"The provincial force under way will cost the province at least $750,000 per year or more," he continued. "It is more than probable this move is instigated by the Social Credit sham-experts who are now governing this province."

Unique Charge

MONCTON, N. B. Feb. 9. — The first information of its kind ever laid in New Brunswick under the old common law rather than the criminal code of Canada, charged a man here with falsely reporting theft of his car.

TUMBLE DOWN CELLAR FATAL TO YOUNG GIRL

MOOSE JAW, Feb. 9.—Cleo Irene Sellers, 20, was killed Monday night when she slipped and fell backwards through an open door leading to the basement at her aunt's home in this city. A piece of snow on her shoe is believed to have caused the accident.

CAPONE UNDER OBSERVATION AS BIT STIR CRAZY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9—Al Capone, scar-faced gangster, was under observation last night in the hospital ward at bleak Alcatraz prison.

To published reports that the one-time leader of the United States most notorious mob was suffering a mental breakdown, federal officials gave only a terse "No comment."

Capone

From the justice department it was learned Capone had been confined to the hospital since Saturday, that physicians considered his removal to a prison affording better medical facilities.

Dr. Edward Twitchell, the Alcatraz psychiatrist, said the mental trouble commonly known in prisons as "stir crazy," is a neurotic condition, not to be confused with a mental breakdown caused by agencies of disease.

Reports from the prison, upon which no Alcatraz official would comment, said Capone began to show evidence of a "blow-up" last week. He refused to leave his cell for meals, made and remade his bed for hours, and occasionally broke out in meaningless song. He refused to wear regulation garb and later collapsed.

RACE BETTING CULT LEADER GOES TO JAIL

MONTREAL, Feb. 9. — Should the Holy Spirit's long anticipated "great transformation" occur within the next four months, Edward Winfield Messier of the bizarre cult will have to witness it all from behind the bars of Bordeaux jail.

For Wilfrid was sentenced Tuesday by Chief Justice Gustave Pelletier to four months' imprisonment for theft of $630 from fellow members of the cult who sold their belongings and "gifted" the proceeds so their 48-year-old leader might invest their donations in bets on horse races.

The dividends from the horses, to be selected in "visions" by one of the disciples, were to purchase "a new land" in California where cult members would wait for the "coming of the Messiah" or the "great transformation." Instead, they are waiting for their horses to return dividends.
